TWO WIVES DIE AS CAR LEAPS OFF HIGHWAY

Husbands In Machine Escape Without Scratch In Mishap Near Milwaukee

BELOIT WOMEN VICTIMS

Large Touring Car Goes Down 6-Foot Embankment At "Dead Man's Curve"

By Associated Press
Milwaukee.—Two wives, Mrs. Nellie Greenberg, 33, and Mrs. Manaduke Robinson, 35, both of Beloit, were instantly killed while their husbands escaped without a scratch when the automobile in which the four were driving to Milwaukee from Beloit overturned and plunged down a six-foot embankment ten miles out of the city Thursday.

Edward Greenberg was driving the car, with his wife beside him. Robinson and his wife occupied the rear seat of the large touring car. Both women sat on the right side of the car.

In turning the corner at "dead man's curve," near the Bell farm on the Mukwonago road near the old Waukesha road, the hub of the front wheel struck a post of the projecting fence, hurling the car through the fence and sending it toppling down the six foot embankment. The women were pinned beneath the car, being killed instantly. The men were thrown clear of the car in its plunge.

FREE HOOVER OF 'DEATH CAR' CHARGE

By Associated Press
Madison.—The charge of fourth degree manslaughter made against Walter Hoover of Duluth, world's champion sculler, was dismissed by Judge A. O. Stolen in the Dane co Superior court here Thursday. Judge Stolen held that there was insufficient evidence to warrant trial of Hoover, who participated in an automobile accident here Oct. 26 resulting in the death of Herbert Seely, Oregon, Wis., farmer. The dismissal of the action came during a preliminary hearing on the manslaughter charge to establish grounds for a trial. Witnesses had testified that neither of the automobiles involved in the accident was being driven at an excessive rate of speed at the time of the crash which resulted in the overturning of the car in which Seely was riding, and caused the injury which resulted in his death.

RECOMMENDS GREEN BAY AS MILITARY HEADQUARTERS

Green Bay, Wis.—Recommendations have been forwarded by Lieutenant Colonel Byron Beveridge to the adjutant general for the establishment of the headquarters detachment and combat train for the battalion of the 121st Field Artillery to be located in Green Bay. The organization will be equipped with radio attachments, 15 trucks, nine sidecar motorcycles, and two reconnaissance cars. Members will be given a thorough course in radio subjects.

Officials in Appleton did not know whether the addition to the 121st Field Artillery in Green Bay was to affect the personnel of the 121st artillery band stationed in this city. No efforts are being made to get the combat train in Appleton.

CALE WEIGHS 110 POUNDS

By Associated Press
Barron.—What is believed to be the heaviest calf ever born on a farm in Wisconsin was born on the George Gleiter farm. The calf weighed 110 pounds at birth. It has gained weight since it was born and it is thought that it will be one of the heaviest cows in this region when it reaches maturity.

'Tis Shocking News

Paris.—The Chilean earthquake, in the opinion of Abbe Moreux, the well known French scientist and astronomer, are only the beginning of a series of disturbances that may be looked for during the coming year. He says that periods during which such phenomena may be expected and a minimum of solar activities will be reached in 1923. Abbe Moreux predicts terrestrial disturbances in the Antilles and in Mexico, Japan, and Turkistan.

COUNTY IS GRANTED AGENT

Path Around Tree Tells of Tragic End

By Associated Press
Iron River, Mich.—Another death has been added to the already large toll of those met through accidents during the present deer hunting season. The body of Oscar Alfredson of Iron River was found by a searching party of twenty men after scouring the woods, near here, for three days. The circumstances leading up to Alfredson's death were told by his companion, Frank Isaacson, a trapper. According to Isaacson, Alfredson and he had gone hunting Sunday morning when the former had shot at a deer, following it into the thicket of the woods thinking he had wounded the animal. Alarmed at Alfredson's absence from the camp, Isaacson organized a band of 20 men who searched the woods for three days.

Otto Kraeger, a member of the searching party, came upon the body lying alongside of a tree which was circled by a newly made path, which indicated that Alfredson, being partially insane from his aimless wandering, had circled the tree time and time again, finally lying down, freezing to death.

TREE KILLS MAN

Iron Mountain, Mich.—Phillip Gwiet, 27, of Pulaski, Wis., died Wednesday as a result of injuries received when a large tree, which he was chopping, fell on him at the Platen Fox company camp No. 10 at McGovern.

LOST, NEAR DEATH

Ironwood, Mich.—Swan Linder, 33, lumberjack, is in a serious condition in a local hospital suffering from exposure while lost in the woods near here. Linder and two other men went to the woods Sunday in search of a companion who they believed lost. The lumberjack became separated from his friends and was unable to find his way back to the town. After being lost for three days, a hunting party found Linder.

SHOOTSELF ACCIDENTALLY

Merrill, Wis.—Harvey Emerich, son of John Emerich, is in a critical condition at the Raven hospital following the accidental discharge of a shotgun which he was holding while standing on a stump in the Newwood territory where he was hunting deer. The bullet entered his left forearm, his left chest from near the heart to the clavicle, the left side of his head, his cheek and left ear. The arm bled so profusely that rope had to be tied around the arm to stop the blood. His left lung was pierced with one of the shot.

AGED MAN DIES

Ashland, Wis.—Isaac Toski, 70 has been found dead in his shack near Highbridge by neighbors who broke open the door after seeing his body lying on the floor. Coroner Solie was notified and took the body to Ashland where it is awaiting word from relatives. Toski had been living alone in a shack one half mile from the highway since last summer when he sold his farm. An examination showed that death was due to natural causes.

HOOVER'S ATTORNEYS BLAME OTHER DRIVER

By Associated Press
Madison.—Beckley, driver on the part of William Bethel, owner of the automobile in which Herbert Seely, Oregon, Wis., farmer was riding, was given by attorneys for Walter Hoover, world's champion sculler, as the cause of the accident here Oct. 26 that resulted in the death of Seely.

Hoover, whose car crashed with that of Bethel, is here facing a charge of fourth degree manslaughter growing out of the accident.

In the preliminary hearing before Judge A. O. Stolen in the Dane co Superior court, Hoover's attorneys charged that Bethel was driving at an excessive rate of speed and without care. Bethel and F. H. Fox, another occupant of the car testified that their machine was traveling at a speed not in excess of 18 miles an hour while they claimed that Hoover was driving fast.

BILLBOARDS NEAR ROADS FACE FIGHT FOR LIFE

Madison.—Signboards along highways are going to have a hard fight for life when the 1923 session of the legislature gets under way. This is indicated by resolutions passed by county boards now in session and by other previous action by the legislature.

Several county legislative bodies in the state have gone on record as favoring the removal of all signs along state and county highways, and the enactment of a law that will prohibit any further placarding of the roads of the state.

During the last session of the legislature it was introduced in the senate, but was defeated by a narrow margin.

Lists Kisses Expense

Omaha, Neb.—The kissing of "two old maids" and the near joining of church were among items listed in the expense account of L. W. Little, defeated candidate for sheriff of Nemaha co which was filed at Auburn Thursday. After stating that he spent $27.50 in his campaign, Little itemized the account as follows:

"Gas and oil; drove car 1,000 miles; walked 900; nine blow outs and seven punctures; gave away nine yards of cotton flannel, three hair nets and two pair of silk hose; was dog bit twice; told 10,000 lies; got kicked off two farms; kissed 62 babies and two old maids; attended one barbecue; came near joining church for policy's sake, made one public speech and if I had made another I would not have received a single vote."

LABOR LEADER FLAYS KING IN RETURN SPEECH

Government Not Apprehensive Of Real Unemployment Situation, He Says

By Associated Press
London.—J. Ramsey MacDonald, Laborite, assumed his new position as leader of the opposition in the house of commons Thursday afternoon and in the debate on the speech from the throne declared that the statement in the King's address regarding unemployment was profoundly unsatisfactory to labor. He said it showed that government had no real appreciation of a terrible tragedy.

Mr. MacDonald said the labor party had no interest in the ameliorative measures of the late government, mentioned in the king's speech but in the blunders of that government which had created the conditions from which the country was now suffering. He called attention to the fact that there were 1,300,000 unemployed.

Mr. MacDonald pledged the assistance of labor in passing the Irish bill, ratifying the treaty and legalizing the free trade.

Referring to the Lausanne peace conference, which he said, was of the utmost importance, the opposition leader declared that labor was not out for a mere tinkering and patching peace. Labor realized that behind the scenes at Lausanne was the hidden hand of the oil interests busy and powerful. Those interests were represented in every hotel in the conference city and were pulling every wire for the purpose of securing national aid for their own projects.

London—The new parliament will be asked to continue and extend the measures prepared by the Lloyd George ministry as regards trade and employment and also to guarantee a loan for the restoration of Austria.

POUF! MORE FARMS FOR WISCONSIN TILLERS

Balsam Lake, Wis.—A total of 32,000 pounds of explosives used this year has brought about land clearing in Polk co to the extent of having 25 per cent of the entire land now under cultivation, John S. Klinka, county agriculture agent says in his report for the year.

DANISH KING'S SISTER WEDS

Copenhagen.—The marriage of Princess Dagmar, youngest sister of King Christian, to Lieutenant Jørgen Castenskjold was celebrated Thursday. In conformance with the wishes of the queen the marriage was strictly private. The bride was styled Mrs. Castenskjold, retaining the title of princess only in the event of widowhood or divorce.

PRESIDENT IS DETERMINED TO AID FARMERS

Single Paragraph Pledge In Recent Speech Forecast Of Next Action

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1922 by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington.—President Harding's purpose in inserting a paragraph about farmer aid in his message to congress on ship subsidy has naturally stirred up a good deal of curiosity. The special session was called for consideration of the merchant marine bill only. The regular session began in December when Mr. Harding's annual message covering a variety of subjects will be read. There was no outward reason why promises of farmer relief need have been included in the ship subsidy address. Why was it done?

The answer, as given in administration quarters, is that President Harding expects to be conferring in the next ten days with members of the farm bloc in congress who are more or less hostile to ship subsidy. He will be conferring with them primarily to get their ideas on the recommendations he should make to congress during the regular session beginning in December. He will also be discussing ship subsidy. Mr. Harding wanted to prevent the impression from being spread that he was trading an agricultural credit plan to win farm support for the ship subsidy. He deliberately inserted a paragraph in his ship subsidy message about it so that the farming interests would recognize that he stands committed to government aid for the farmer. He wants it understood that he is for that plan in respect to the outcome of the ship subsidy controversy. His purpose therefore was to give a public pledge to the farmers before he began any conferences with farm bloc senators about ship subsidy.

Mr. Harding's idea is to overcome the opposition of the farm elements by showing them that he is tackling farm questions coincident with ship subsidy and that the building up of a merchant marine is important so that the products of the farmer may be carried to all parts of the globe at cheap rates of transportation.

But this phase of the farmer problem is not the only one which the administration must tackle. It's the transportation rates on land which are at the root of the trouble. The farmer has been clamoring for lower freight rates and has resented government guarantees to the railroads while no assurances or guarantees have been given to the farmer. Their labels problem is also a factor. It would not be surprising to see the railroad and farm problems taken up simultaneously in the December session of congress and some recommendations from President Harding to amend the Esch-Cummins transportation act are looked for. That's why Mr. Harding wants to get ship subsidy out of the way and provide a friendly atmosphere for consultation with the farm bloc in congress who undoubtedly will be more active than ever in view of the discontent manifested in their constituencies in recent months.

NEENAH GETS NEXT YEAR'S LAKE REGATTA

By Associated Press
Oshkosh.—The Inland Lake Yachting association annual regatta in 1923 will be held next August at Neenah under the auspices of the Neenah-Nodaway Yacht club. That was the announcement made at a banquet held Wednesday evening in this city by the sailors of the Neenah and Oshkosh yacht clubs. It was also decided to continue next year the successful series of intercity races of the Neenah and Oshkosh Yacht clubs. These were Saturday and Sunday affairs last year. A feature of the evening, in addition to plans for next season and speeches by the sailors, was the formal presentation of the new silver trophy awarded by the two clubs to the winners, John Buckstaff and L. Frank Gates of the Yacht Faith, winner of the Lake Winnebago championship of last season, and the presentation of the Neenah championship pennant to the Oshkosh club as the winner of the 1922 series.

Votes 22-17 To Provide $3,000 Fund

Tracy And D. J. Ryan Oppose Demand For New Official

By the adoption of a resolution appropriating $3,000 for salary and expenses, the county board at its meeting Thursday morning assured the farmers a county agricultural agent. The ballot stood 22 to 17 with 2 members absent. During the discussion that preceded the vote it looked like a 50-50 proposition and after the result was announced there was profound silence until the next order of business was taken up.

Among the supporters of the resolution were Supervisors Grant, Rohan, Schultz, Beck, and P. H. Ryan. Grant called attention to the advantage of having an agent to test the soil to tell whether a farmer can grow certain crops on his land, and said a farmer often wasted his seed and time in not having such information. Rohan emphasized the need of an agent in disposing of purebred cattle. He said agents were acquainted with buyers all over the country and in this way could make sales where the farmer couldn't.

CHANGES MIND

Supervisor Schultz said he originally was opposed to a county agent, but had since changed his mind. He did not believe farmers knew it all and said he frequently read valuable information from his son who is only 24 years old. Beck read a list of the duties of a county agent and said many farmers visited his office and expressed themselves in favor of such appointment.

Supervisor P. H. Ryan, who is an Appleton resident, made such a strong plea for an agent that one of the supporters of the resolution took occasion to thank him. In his opinion farmers were making a mistake in passing up expert assistance.

Among the supervisors most strongly opposed to the resolution were John Tracy and D. J. Ryan. Mr. Ryan has been opposed to appointment of an agent for several years and said he would certainly vote against the resolution. Anyone who needed any information on soil or the growing of any crop could write to Madison for a bulletin and it would cost him only three cents, he said. Supervisor Beck came back with the statement that farming by mail was about like selling goods by mail. John Tracy was opposed to further increasing the taxpayers burden and expressed the view that the expenditure was an unnecessary one.

REICHSTAG TO KNOW CUNO AIDES FRIDAY

Herr Von Rosenberg Expected To Accept Foreign Portfolio Thursday

By Associated Press
Berlin.—Wilhelm Cuno, who has assumed chancellor's responsibility in the government of Germany, Thursday was putting the finishing touches on the organization of his "cabinet of work" with which he plans to go before the Reichstag on Friday.

Herr Cuno anticipated a conference with Herr Von Reichstag, to whom he offered the foreign portfolio but who has not yet accepted. Herr Von Rosenberg's presence in Berlin was generally expected Thursday, however, inasmuch as he was reported Wednesday as enroute to this city from Copenhagen. It is believed that the new government bases its program on the Wirth ministry's November program which suggested a loan of 1,000,000 marks, half of which would be supplied by the Reichstag as a means of rehabilitating the German mark. The note also requested a moratorium for three or four years.

BLEW UP WALL STREET, HE SAYS; EXAMINE HIM

New York.—Julius Reynolds, a native of Switzerland, was arrested Thursday charged with being the author of a note received by the custodian of Borough hall Brooklyn on Tuesday in which the writer who claimed responsibility for the Wall Street explosion in 1920, threatened to bomb the hall. The police said that Reynolds talked irrationally and he was sent to a hospital for observation.

Reynolds admitted writing the letter, the police said, but declared he did not intend to carry out his threat.

BERGER ASKS AMNESTY FOR WAR PRISONERS

Fear Announces Policy Of State Delegation — Congress Spends Busy Day

By Associated Press
Washington.—Victor Berger of Milwaukee the only Socialist elected to the new congress, appealed to President Harding Thursday for release of the prisoners convicted for violation of the espionage and other war time acts.

Representative Fear, Republican of Wisconsin, said in a statement Thursday he had been instructed to announce that the Wisconsin delegation in the house expected to work "individually and collectively with the Republican organization as heretofore." He added, however, that the delegation was interested primarily in the enactment of certain legislation which is interpreted to be a recent mandate from the people. The statement was in response to queries of many sources as to how the Wisconsin representatives would line up in the election of a speaker and floor leader in the next congress, especially in view of the recent call of Senator La Follette for a conference of progressives.

ACT ON IMPEACHMENT

Washington.—The house judiciary committee adopted a resolution Thursday, calling on Republican Keller, Republican, Minnesota to present by Dec. 1, a statement of acts showing the alleged act or acts for which he has asked for the impeachment of Attorney General Daugherty. Mr. Keller was requested to name as far as possible the "persons involved in each transaction, the time and place thereof and the witnesses by which such facts can be established."

WANT STATE TURNOUT FOR EXPORT MEETING

Support of all Wisconsin industries, especially those which do an export business, is sought by Milwaukee Association of Commerce for a conference of men of the middle west to be held at Hotel Pfister, Milwaukee, at 10:30 Monday morning in the interest of a merchant marine and promotion of foreign trade.

A letter from J. J. Bloomer, traffic secretary of the organization, to Appleton Chamber of Commerce urges a large turnout of businessmen. The session of congress will be discussed and some plea sent to Washington concerning it.

AMERICANS IN TURKEY TAKE STEPS TO FLEE

British Business Interests Also Prepare To Leave Should Peace Parley Fizzle

By Associated Press
Constantinople.—Americans and British interests are taking steps to remove their property and personnel in the event that the Lausanne conference fails to accomplish its purposes of establishing peace in the Near East.

The largest and oldest British business house in Turkey began Thursday to transfer its entire stocks valued at $1,500,000 from the main street of the city, to the docks so that its goods might be immediately removed.

Lausanne.—The question of Thrace was again before the commission on military and territorial matters at the conference Thursday. Ismet Pasha was expected to make a long speech on Turkey's claim for a plebiscite in western Thrace.

The enthusiasm of the Turkish delegates for a plebiscite has evidently been considerably dampened by the discovery that England, Italy and France are solidly united against the significance of a meeting of the Balkan delegates. Wednesday night at which it is understood there was a discussion of the policy to be adopted by the Balkan states on the question of western Thrace.

It was apparent Thursday that Greece, Rumania and Jugoslavia in view of the opposition to a plebiscite expressed by the entente spokesmen, have the hearty support of the three great powers in their efforts to prevent Turkey from extending her western boundary beyond the Maritza river.

The meeting of the Balkan representatives, which was called for by former Premier Venizelos of Greece, was regarded in conference circles as of considerable importance because it was the first time in many years that Greece, Bulgaria, Jugoslavia and Rumania had come together to present a united front on a clearly defined issue.

SEE FIGHT AHEAD FOR SUBSIDY BILL

By Associated Press

Washington.—The way was cleared for the beginning of the fight in the house Thursday over the administration shipping bill, given right of way by the adoption of a resolution brought in by the rules committee Wednesday.

Although the resolution which carried provision for unlimited amendment and a vote on final passage Nov. 29, was adopted by a vote of 200 to 110, house leaders did not believe this could be taken as an indication of the final lineup on the measure.

LOSES FOUR TO ONE; SAYS HE IS ELECTED

By Associated Press
Shell Lake, Wis.—H. W. McKeever, defeated candidate at the recent election for sheriff of Washburn co, has served through his attorneys a writ of mandamus restraining County Clerk A. P. Cameron from issuing a certificate of election to James Johnson who was elected to succeed himself as sheriff of this county by a four to one vote over McKeever. Mr. McKeever alleges among other things that all votes cast for Johnson were cast in bad faith because of the fact that a sheriff cannot succeed himself and he has made a demand on the county clerk for a certificate of election, claiming that under the statutes he is duly elected. A hearing is being held in Circuit court at Barron before Judge W. R. Foley.

"TIGER" TO GO BEFORE BOSTONIANS ON FRIDAY

By Associated Press
New York.—Georges Clemenceau was happy Thursday morning as he prepared to leave for Boston where Friday he is to deliver the second address of his American itinerary. He felt that his purpose in coming to America—the winning of America to closer relationship with France, already was being accomplished. He felt encouraged at the reception accorded him in one of his New York addresses, in one of which he had declared bluntly that America had left France "in the lurch" after the war. He was up early, as usual, and soon getting things in shipshape for the journey to Boston in the private railroad car of Charles M. Schwab.

MINE BLAST TAKES HEAVY TOLL OF MEN

Sparks, From Runaway Train Underground Ignite Explosive Dust

MANY NARROW ESCAPES

Entombed Men Flee From Flames In Bowels Of Earth—Prisoners Several Hours

By Associated Press
Birmingham, Ala.—Eighty-four lives were lost and 60 persons were injured as a result of an accident and explosion Wednesday in Dolomite No. 3, coal mine of the Woodward Iron company, according to a statement issued at noon Thursday by Frank H. Crookard, president of the company. Of the injured 35 were removed to their homes, 25 were in hospitals. Work of identification at that hour had not been completed but it was believed there were 35 white dead and 20 white injured.

The accident and blast came almost simultaneously—like two flashes of lightning—enrapturing 477 men. Weary hours had passed before 333 of these workers had escaped by means of two man-ways into adjoining mines and by the main entry.

TRAIN CAUSES BLAST

Flames shot hundreds of feet in the air from the mine mouth, enveloping the superstructure and making it impossible for rescue workers to descend for several hours. When the flame subsided, rescuers found tracks, twisted and cables ruined by the runaway of a train of trip cars, an accident which caused an electric spark to touch off the dangerous dust.

In feverish haste means of exit were established in the main entry but before this was accomplished scores of entombed men had answered the welcoming shouts of rescue workers who had entered from the remote manways from other mines. From all three exits men were carried out or climbed to safety, singly, in twos, and groups during the hours immediately following the explosion. The after-damp quickly filled the pit and the lives of rescuers as well as those imprisoned were imperiled.

Not until the last body was removed did the crowd of anxious women and children turn away from the pit. Stoicism in many cases overcame hysterics and even those who had lost loved ones looked on as the work of identification went on in mute horror and grief.

BLAINE FACES MANY TASKS AFTER TOUR

Governor's Attention Turned To Requests Of Finances From State Departments

By Associated Press
Madison.—Governor Blaine was back in his office Thursday prepared to attack administrative problems growing out of the large budget requests of the state departments, and to commence preparation of his message to the coming session of the legislature.

For the past ten days the governor has been travelling through the central states as a sales agent for Wisconsin products. His talks in leading cities of the middle west boosting the state of which he is the chief executive, attracted wide attention and opened the way for more extensive trade relations between Wisconsin and other commonwealths of the Mississippi valley.

The immediate attention of Governor Blaine is now expected to be turned to finances, in an effort to arrive at a definite policy in dealing with departmental requests for appropriations. He will probably call the state board of public affairs into session for another meeting either Friday of this week, or early next week.

EDUCATORS AIR SCHOOL PROBLEMS

Members Of Boards Turn Out In Large Numbers At Appleton And Seymour

Between 300 and 400 school officials attended the annual sectional meeting of school boards of Outagamie county at Appleton, Wis., Wednesday. A somewhat smaller crowd was in attendance Thursday at the school board convention in Seymour. Jennings, county superintendent of schools, is on the program for the Seymour meeting. He was to speak on "Compulsory School Attendance."

Various problems pertaining to maintenance, equipment and sanitation of schools were discussed from every angle. Questions were raised on many matters and answered by the speakers. A. A. Thompson, state auditor of the department of education, W. F. Hagman, principal of the county training school, and W. F. Smith of Appleton, were among the speakers.

PIERCE'S CONDITION SHOWING LITTLE CHANGE

The condition of Clifford E. Pierce, Menasha man shot while deer hunting, is not considered good but there has been no marked change in the last 24 hours, according to word from the hospital at a Peaswood, Mich., where he is confined.

An X-ray examination on Wednesday failed to reveal the bullet which is believed to be lodged in the bladder.

CHOOSE NINE FOR H. S. DEBATE TEAMS

First Contests Scheduled Next March With Green Bay And Manitowoc

Nine Appleton high school students have been picked for the debate teams as a result of the tryout debates at the high school on Wednesday evening. Harry Hoeftel, Alden Behnke and Ray Pink, who have been on former debate teams have again been chosen and the following in addition: Harold Zuehlke, Maurice Lewis, Erna Gosse, Dorothy Adair Ward Wheeler and John Harrison. Mr. Harrison has been chosen manager of the debates.

Five of the nine chosen for the teams took the question for the regular debates for the tryouts, which is: "Resolved: That the coal mines of the United States be owned and controlled by the federal government." They were Hoeftel, Zuehlke, Pink, Wheeler and Lewis. The others who made the teams debated the question: "Resolved: That the City of Appleton build a bridge at Cherry St." The third question in the tryouts was: "Resolved: That Appleton purchase Lawrence field to be used as a junior high school site."

The number who tried out for the teams was 27, several of whom were girls. H. H. Hebble, who has charge of this activity, will pick the students for the regular teams of three from the eight who will work on the question. Appleton no longer belongs to the Lawrence league but to a newly organized Fox River league which includes only the same schools which Appleton meets on the athletic field.

The first debate of the season is scheduled with East Green Bay and Manitowoc for March 2, 1923.

SUES FOR BALANCE DUE ON FORD TRUCK

E. H. Ramm Couldn't Sell Machine He Took Back From Carl Kamke

The jury that is trying the case of E. H. Ramm of New London vs. Carl Kamke, a farmer near that city, was unable to reach an agreement by Thursday noon and recessed until 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Ramm, who is a garage man in New London, instituted suit against the farmer because of alleged default of payment of a note for $275. He asserts he sold the defendant a Ford truck several years ago, on which the man paid $100 and gave a note for the balance.

When Kamke was unable to meet the note because, according to his statement, of the failure of a cucumber crop, the truck was taken back by the dealer, the sale of which was to cover or supply on the note, the plaintiff said. He declared he was unable to sell the truck, and now demands payment of the note.

DEER SEASON CLOSED; WEATHER WAS JINX

The ten-day deer season closed Thursday. Hunters have been returning south for the last two days with their automobiles filled with camping equipment and an occasional deer. The weather has been unfavorable for hunting with the result that the majority of hunters are returning empty handed.

RESTORE 2 TRAINS ON C. & N. W. ROAD

Passenger Service Resumes Monday on Trains Leaving At 10:27 And 6:12

Welcome news was received by the chamber of commerce Thursday morning when it was announced that two of the most used passenger trains Northern Wisconsin division of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad which were annulled during the coal and rail strikes will be replaced Monday. They are No. 210, southbound at 10:27 in the morning and No. 205 northbound at 6:12 in the evening.

Appleton Chamber of Commerce, together with others of the valley, has had this matter up with the company for several weeks. Two trains still out of service on Ashland division, Nos. 131 and 132, have not been ordered restored, but the various commercial organizations are working to have this done because of inadequate service to northwest towns.

Miss Loretta Hodgins has gone to Milwaukee for a several day's visit with friends.

FIND OLD NOVELS HAVE AMPLE FASCINATION

Alexandre Dumas' books have been in great demand at the Public Library since the presentation of "The Count of Monte Cristo" in the movies recently. Every book written by Dumas is usually out and many calls are made for them. People who usually read only current fiction and fight shy of two-volume books in fine print are among those who are now reading the classic French novels.

THE WEST SIDE

For decades past, almost as long as the oldest resident can remember, that part of Appleton west of Superior-st was known as "the chute," reminiscent of the days when it was Grand Chute instead of Appleton. In more recent years, however, the appellation of "the chute" has been replaced by the more descriptive and dignified phrase of "the west side."

No part of Appleton has experienced greater growth than this same west side. Real estate experts estimate that more than $3,000,000 has been invested in new homes west of Superior-st in the last four years. More than half of the 200 houses erected in Appleton this year are in the Third and Fifth wards. Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been invested in stores, factories and business places in the west side in the last decade.

A large part of today's Post-Crescent is devoted to description of the west side of Appleton and its multitudinous activities. On Saturday, Nov. 25, the new Wichmann store will be formally opened and Mr. Wichmann's fellow merchants have taken this opportunity to congratulate him on completion of the splendid structure and to let the rest of Appleton know that the west side is made up of businessmen as progressive as will be found anywhere in the country.

ALIGNMENTS FORMING IN CONGRESS

Plans announced by Progressives and Democrats signify that there is likely to be much action in congress in the special and regular sessions. Senator La Follette of Wisconsin calls a meeting of Progressives, but takes care to say that he and his associates are not to form a new party, while Senator Capper of Kansas, who is a member of the Progressive organization and head of the farm bloc, specifies the items of a constructive program.

We see in the several groups and movements in congress indications of what looks like, and is, to a considerable extent, a reaction against the financial and commercial interests. As might be expected, the reaction is somewhat extreme in a few respects. However, no matter what the surface shows, the great current is toward stabilizing settlements.

The people want sincerity, integrity and patriotism in government, as they know these qualities will result finally, not in class or group legislation, but in legislation beneficial to the nation as a whole.

SENATOR CAPPER AND THE FARMERS

A comprehensive credit scheme for farmers and stockmen and development of a good marketing system are rural requirements, according to Senator Capper, which the United States must provide. He insists, too, on lower freight rates, on prohibiting issuance of tax-exempt securities, and on profitable big business sharing more equitably the expense of government.

There is no doubt that the credit facilities of the farmers are not adequate or satisfactorily specialized, and that a marketing system, well devised and organized, would prevent waste and steady prices. Freight rates ought to be lowered as much and as speedily as possible. Tax-exempt securities are a form of privilege injurious to public policy and business in general. And the cost of conducting the government should be borne according to ability to pay.

The people will approve all of these ideas, provided they are realized on a sound and fair basis.

VOTING BY INSTINCT

When the voters make up their mind that they want a change in their representation, they are particular only in one respect, and this is to get a change. It is more or less immaterial with them whether the change is for better or for worse; if it cannot be for the better, why, then, they are willing to gamble. And sometimes, they are surprised. What they believe will turn out to be unsatisfactory, really proves to be gratifying. Sometimes the worse turns out to be better, just as sometimes the better turns out to be worse. Interpreting the sentiment of the people is not always an easy matter. They sometimes speak different than they think.

Scruggemen, a regular candidate for parliament, was elected in opposition to the popular and picturesque Winston Spender Churchill, one of the most influential national leaders of Great Britain. This man had been defeated again and again. He was a street corner orator. The voters laughed at him. Yet, in a moment of a strange civic psychology, they chose him as their representative.

Nobody can say in advance whether an elected candidate will be a success or a failure. This corner orator may be an efficient representative. However, is it any wonder that authorities in civics maintain that popular judgment is as often eccentric and wrong as normal and sound? Is it any wonder they claim that public opinion is the most fallible sentiment?

Very few campaigns can be analyzed. Intuition plays the most important part in elections. Balancing the many voters who hold opinions are the many who follow what they call instinct. Perhaps after all it is the leaders who are the strength and solidity of democracy.

MEN FORTY OR MORE

Henry Ford is speaking: "A man's career doesn't really begin until he is around 40. When he is 40 years old, a man has just about reached the age when he may begin to think seriously about making money."

Mr. Ford's idea is that the average man cannot expect to accumulate much of a fortune in the first 40 years of life, so those who have reached this age without much to show for it should not be discouraged. From his point of view he is right. Probably it is a sound idea, too, for there is no better authority on how to succeed in business than the Detroit automobile manufacturer.

Up to 40, as Mr. Ford sees it, a man's chief function in life is to gain experience. He should be learning all he can; particularly how to spend money. As I told you two weeks ago, the best advice I can give a young man anxious to succeed is: Spend your money—on yourself; get all the experience you can. Don't try to save money and be a miser."

Knowledge and experience are working capital to an individual, just as surely as money in the bank. With $10,000 and no experience, the average man going into business for himself is more apt to go broke than to make a success. Knowledge and experience are even more important than money. To get them, costs money.

Obviously, Ford is not suggesting that one go out and fling his money to the four winds. Observe that he says, spend it on yourself. What to buy? Good books, education, travel and experience, that bring knowledge. Ford himself is 59. He was nearly 40 before he began giving much thought to building up a fortune. Previously to that he had been busy—spending his money experimenting and increasing his fund of information. He didn't spend on foolish amusement. He didn't loaf. He invested his dollars and time in increasing his mechanical knowledge, in developing a definite campaign of action in a certain industry, and in acquiring the knowledge of human nature necessary to enable him to market his product. Now he is "cashing in" on that early investment in himself. Indirectly he had always been saving and accumulating.

CODDLERS
Grandpa's bronchitis had been his household pet for some six or seven winters. It is to be greatly regretted that modern practice or custom subjects indoor dwellers and especially those fond of coddling to the debilitating effect of an atmosphere drier than the deadly dryness of the desert. For all outdoors is one great oasis where the air is ideally moist and the human mucous membranes thrive, as all human experience proves. The wonder is that so many of us, more or less shut in during the winter, get through the ordeal with so little respiratory disease.

"Let me tell you," pleaded the doctor—for Grandpa liked to do most of the talking when holding a consultation with his doctor—"it is like this: In cold weather you are housed in, breathing artificially warmed and vitiated air which contains practically no moisture and in fact dryer than the parched air of Death valley. Your natural resistance is lowered by reason of this unwholesome atmosphere in which you live all winter by reason of insufficient exercise, for you know you don't take your daily walk regularly when the weather is not to your liking; and by reason of other errors or sins against hygiene which have habitually come. So, your chronic bronchitis grows worse, your annual winter cough returns, as the inevitable result. In short, your annual bronchial trouble is the price you pay for hugging the fire all winter. If you'd only listen to me, your medical adviser, and forget your antipathy for changeable weather and get out every day, rain or shine, snow or blow, for your constitutional."

"Humph!" Grandpa was pulling on his shirt and emitting his agnosticism through the bosom thereof. "Humph, I spend about as much time in the open air as the next man. Would you have me go out and live in an igloo like an Eskimo?"

The usual reaction, Grandpa was not to be mollified. In other words it is the devil's own job to shake the fixed delusion of elderly people. Most good doctors know better than to try. The bronchitis runs on, from winter to winter, and the patient takes what comfort and peace he can find in his mistaken mode of living. "I was born in a bedroom with all the windows nailed shut," exclaimed one doughty victim of winter cough, "and I'm not hankering to die in a snowdrift or a barn."

The doctor tossed his stethoscope in his bag with some show of impatience. "Did you take your two miles of oxygen this morning, may I ask?" It was a drizzly day. Grandpa grunted. "Of course not. Do I look crazy?"

Bronchial tube coddlers are always as sensitive as barometers. They attribute every temporary increase in cough to some real or imaginary change of weather, whereas the actual explanation is more likely a dietary indiscretion of excess. Yes, indeed, Grandpa is a great offender in this respect. Another day I will tell you something about the sins of eating and how they affect his bronchitis.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Mourning For Lost Adenoids

Last Saturday, acting on the advice of our physician, we had our little girl's adenoids removed. She is only 3 years old. The adenoids removed were small, about enough to fill half a teaspoonful. Is she likely to be harmed? Would it have been better not to have had them removed?—(F. C. C.)

Answer—I do not understand why you have any misgivings about it. Of course no harm can come as a result of removal of adenoids. On the contrary the little girl is likely to benefit from it. If the adenoid body had been normal, and not enlarged and diseased, not even half a teaspoonful of material would have been removed. Half a teaspoonful of adenoid vegetation in a little child's nasopharynx or nose-throat channel may be a serious obstruction.

Books For Tuberculosis Patients

Some time ago you recommended a book for one with tuberculosis to read or study. Kindly mention such a book again.—(L. W. B.)

Answer—The best book of the kind I know of is Dr. Lawrence Brown's "Rules For Recovery From Tuberculosis," published by Lea & Febiger, New York, N. Y., at $1.00. The next best is Dr. Charles E. Atkinson's "Lessons on Tuberculosis and Consumption," published by Funk & Wagnalls, New York, N. Y., at $2.50. Both may be available at your public library.

OUR CITY OF DREADED NIGHT

That terror which stalked and killed Anna Gallo, of South Dakota and Bohemia, lost in New York, is not reserved for aliens who cannot speak our language. There is nothing more terrible—perhaps there never has been anything more terrible—than the weakness and loneliness of a great, modern, teeming city.

If a city is full of friends and you have been born and brought up in it, so that every corner has a memory, nothing can be more friendly. When the city is your own home town its darkest, deepest canyons are as friendly as a forest roadway and strangers' faces as smiling as the gayest shop windows.

It is all a question of point of view. To the falling outsider, dining on delicatessen and revelling at soda fountains, scraping acquaintances and no friends, hunting a job only to lose it, every crowd in a subway is a mob of enemies pushing him to the wall. Just as poor Anna Gallo could not bear the blind terror of being alone in a subway mob, so the buffeted stranger feels that there is no place so lonely as New York. Yet there is no place unless you succeed in making it smile at you and become your own home town.—NEW YORK TRIBUNE

Railroad Men Fear What LaFollette Will Attempt

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN
Washington, D. C.—There is abundant authority for the statement that the railroad problem is probably the most serious one before the American people today.

Aside from the controversy over the Railroad Labor Board, the immediate manifestation of difficulty is the car shortage which exists, particularly in the western part of the country. The American Railway Association estimates a shortage of between 150,000 and 200,000 cars of all sorts, and the railroad executives say that there is no remedy for this shortage which can be applied now. The country must get through the emergency the best way it can, taking such losses as are unavoidable and possessing itself in patience until a permanent solution can be found.

The American transportation system runs quite smoothly in fair weather when traffic is not too heavy and when there are no abnormal difficulties in the way. Just as soon as something untoward happens, however, it gets all cramped and tied up like a man with a bad case of rheumatism. Unfortunately the comparison ends there for in the case of the victim of rheumatism it is the only one who suffers, but when the railroad gets in condition such that they cannot function normally everybody suffers.

Instead of taking a temporary measure with a rusty elbow, the rheumatic patient, if he is wise, takes treatment for the rheumatism in his whole system. He attempts to eliminate the basic trouble. It is becoming plain that instead of attempting temporary expedients with recurring railroad troubles, Congress must proceed to a thorough treatment which will better the whole transportation machine.

Probably an extra session of Congress will be called after the fourth of March, 1923, which will be devoted largely to the railroad problem. This will mean that a series of hearings will be conducted to obtain the best available advice on what legislation should be enacted. Following this, a general transportation bill will be framed and threshed out in Congress.

Senator LaFollette, author of the Railroad Valuation Act, is expected to take a leading part in this program, and the railway presidents shudder when they think about what he may do. The Wisconsin statesman has made it clear that in his judgment the troubles of the railroads are due primarily to over-capitalization and financial mismanagement, and the men whom he regards as responsible will get anything but sympathetic treatment at his hands. He is regarded as in a degree the spokesman for labor and it is possible he may lead the fight for the abolition of the Railroad Labor Board which Samuel Gompers has said the American Federation of Labor is determined to make Senator Cummins, as chairman of the Committee on Interstate Commerce, is another who will be exceedingly active in shaping any railroad legislation that may come.

The United States and its railroad system may be likened to a growing boy and his clothes. The clothes must be constantly enlarged to keep up with the boy's growth or they wear thin in important places and bind the freedom of his limbs. Before the war about 2,500 miles of railroad were built each year. This was the enlargement necessary to keep up with the growing population and commercial activity of the nation. When the war came, railroad building stopped and since that time there has been practically no net gain in mileage or facilities. In fact, in some sections many miles of railroad were torn up. There was a period when the war was at its height and cost of operation bore a disproportionate relationship to rates of transportation, when some small companies abandoned operation and tore up their rails, selling them for junk. The steel value was higher than the track value.

The same is true of railroad equipment. The cars and locomotives necessary to handle the traffic offered were insufficient. These things cost money and the railroads did not have the funds to make the necessary expenditures. Not only were the additions to equipment few; the old cars and locomotives were permitted to deteriorate.

Good progress was being made in catching up when the shogmen's strike last summer, swelling the railroads in a vulnerable place. Once more, they were set back.

Terminal facilities constitute another important angle of the problem. Industry in the United States has a tendency to center about great cities. Everybody tries to crowd in together. This means that tens of thousands of cars of freight are all being shipped to the same places simultaneously. The inevitable result is congestion. Tracks and sidings and loading and unloading machinery are inadequate. The railroads claim that they have lacked the funds to make the desired improvements.

During the war such funds were not available. The Liberty bonds put out by the Treasury to finance the war took all the cash the people had. There was nothing left to invest in railroad bonds. Labor costs rose so high that even with the increased freight rates the cost of operating some railroads was in excess of the amounts collected in freight rates and fares.

There are just a few of the ailments of the transportation system. It is said by some students of the situation, that the vast sum of $2,000,000,000 a year should be expended for from 5 to 10 years on the American railroads to bring them up abreast of the industrial development of the country. Whatever the total amount, it is certain that immense sums must be made available for a period of years in any comprehensive plan of rehabilitation.

A LIMIT TO RATE INCREASES

Railroad rates cannot be increased indefinitely. There is a rule of economics known as the law of diminishing returns. It means that you can raise rates for a certain period and obtain more money thereby. After you pass a certain point of increase, instead of getting more money you get less because the charge is too high for the traffic to bear and therefore fewer shipments are made. Late in the year 1920 that point was reached. Prices of commodities went down and rates stayed up. Shipments stopped. In many cases, particularly in cases of agricultural products, the price which a commodity would bring at the market was little more or no more than the freight rate to the market. Of course, no farmer would ship a hog to market if the freight cost of the shipment would equal the whole price obtained. The result was that the farmer lost the sale and the railroad lost the traffic. Everybody lost.

Since the rate increase of 1920 there has been some reduction of railroad freight tariffs, but the scale remains high above the pre-war level. Traffic is climbing up again rapidly with renewed prosperity and is bringing trouble. The railroads are not equipped to handle the increase. Car shortage and terminal congestion are developing seriously along with the increased traffic.

The railroads claim that one trouble is that Congress has limited their earnings. They say they cannot sell bonds to get money to make improvements when Congress limits the earning power. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has frankly expressed the opinion that there is too much railroad regulation. He has expressed what he terms a holiday for the railroads—that is a period of five years or more in which restrictive legislation will be largely withdrawn from railroad operation, permitting them to make as much money as they can. He has pointed out that the course of railroad rates was down as the result of competition before the advent of Federal regulation and that since the Interstate Commerce Commission was established to regulate rates, the course of rates has been upward. Mr. Mellon says the roads and the public were both better off without restrictive regulation, and it may be that he will undertake to tell Congress how his holiday plan can be carried into effect. At any rate Congress is about to tackle the problem again and the country and the railroad companies must await the result. Meantime, enough trains are running so that one has to be careful at crossings.

SENIORITY IN CONGRESS CHAIRMANSHIPS

The floor of Senator Mediell McCormick, of Illinois, to Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Senate Republican leader, suggesting that the rule of seniority in the selection of chairmen of the various committees be abrogated has been made a subject of general editorial discussion. The concrete proposal meets with general endorsement. But there is a disposition in certain quarters to intimate that, coming at this time, when radicals of the LaFollette and Borah type are the ranking members, and next in line to the chairman of their committees, the plan contains a hidden purpose. It is conceded that the subject will be one of fruitful debate in party circles until the assembling of the next congress.

"Under a really responsible government the Chairmen of the important committees of the House and Senate must necessarily be men, regardless of seniority, who are actively in sympathy with the White House policies and who are prepared to stand or fall with the Administration's program," the New York WORLD, (Dem.), holds, after admitting the soundness of Senator McCormick's arguments. The WORLD takes the position, however, that "once the seniority rule were abandoned the Republican leaders would be adrift," and that "Senator McCormick might as well ask them to cut their own throats and be done with it." The trouble does not lie with the seniority rule, in the view of the New York TRIBUNE, (Rep.), because "what the majority requires is not only new leadership but a new spirit and a new outlook. A better average of vigorous, open-minded Republicanism is what will be needed in the new Senate before any change in leadership can lead anywhere." The Chicago TRIBUNE, (Dem.), explains it would not oppose "seniority in itself" in fact it suggests that long service "should decide when other considerations balance," but it insists that the country demands the best and that because of this the rule should be abandoned so that "men who have the qualifications" of leadership can dominate the committees. Somewhat similar is the position of the Lansing STATE JOURNAL, (Ind.), which believes that "it is time changes were made in the rule whereby something else besides years of service would count."

Because all efforts to end selection by seniority have failed in the past the Milwaukee SENTINEL, (Ind.), feels that "it probably will be better and more practicable, instead of setting up a speculative test of fitness, to concentrate against cases of obvious and demonstrated unfitness. Even this modest task is bound to cause considerable difficulties." With the senatorial situation as it is the Waterloo TRIBUNE, (Ind.), believes "the progressives, known as radicals, will fight for the seniority rule now, because they believe and have right to believe—that the regulars would deny them the power that comes with control of the great committees of the Senate. Unquestionably the Senate could better serve by abrogation of the seniority rule, but this fact is lost sight of in the factional fight to come." It cannot be denied, the Petersburg PROGRESS & INDEX APPEAL, (Ind.), argues, that "the seniority rule is one which has never worked in either branch of congress in the interest of the public. But those who undertake to force either house to abandon the seniority system will be entering upon the fight of their lives." And the Springfield UNION, (Ind.), insists that "the advisability of the change should be considered entirely on the basis of merit without the injection of the issue of party expediency."

The Boston TRANSCRIPT, (Ind. Rep.), unqualifiedly endorses the abrogation of the rule of seniority both in the Senate and the House because "unless it is adopted party intertation at Washington will continue and that sense of party sponsorship" in government, without which no party is fit to govern, will grow weaker instead of stronger." It likewise is the opinion of the Indianapolis NEWS, (Ind.), that "the proposed change is very decidedly in the public interest, and would tend to make Congress more efficient, or, at least, less inefficient." On the other hand the New York TIMES, (Ind. Dem.), points out that a change at this time would affect Senators such as Borah and LaFollette and says that is the "real trouble" in the opinion of Mr. McCormick adding that "not by any device can you lead men who refuse to be led. Whatever friction is felt under the seniority rule would probably be increased by the change. Chairmanships might easily be attained by compromises and deals and mediocrity get the better of distinction and old experience. Our legislative program will be enacted when our Senators agree instead of fighting like cats and dogs." And the Philadelphia PUBLIC LEDGER, (Ind. Rep.), feels the implied "age limit threat may work havoc," citing that many of the leaders of the Senate would be affected.

In the opinion of the Baltimore SUN, (Dem.), the real motives behind the suggested move should be carefully considered, inasmuch as, while "the proposal always has had much merit in it it is rarely mentioned in flush and lush Republican days. The cool and unwhistened way in which it is now put forward does not indicate much more than that the leaders realize that if they are to have even the shadow of leadership left to them they must at least pretend to make concessions to the 'undesirables' from Iowa and other points west soon to come in." While the advice "is wise" the Brooklyn EAGLE, (Ind.), doubts it will be accepted because "established customs and venerable traditions are hard to overcome." In addition the New York POST, (Ind.), thinks the letter "is less important as indicating a change in the spirit of the next Congress than a forecasting another struggle for control of the Republican organization. Unless a change in that control means also a decided change of policy the Republicans will be in danger of losing the election of 1924 by default."

Because many Senators "trim to stay in the Senate," the Richmond NEWS-LEADER, (Ind. Dem.), takes the position that seniority should be completely abandoned and holds that, "roughly speaking, not one committee chairman in ten can be considered the best equipped member of the Senate for the duties assigned him." It should also be conceded, the New Haven REGISTER, (Ind.), says, "the country needs this reform and that is important. The party needs it, and the welfare of party, after all, underlies a great part of our politics." The Buffalo NEWS, (Rep.), believes that "the thing to do is to make such readjustments as the circumstances plainly indicate are desired by the majority of the people. The Republican party is called upon to put its house in order. If it does not meet the demands so clearly expressed by the people there need be no speculation as to what will happen in 1924."

Because "the old rule has been responsible for many absurdities in the past," the Columbus STATE JOURNAL, (Ind. Rep.), feels that "the old tradition ought to be discarded in the future and the peculiar situation in the next Senate, due to the defeat of so many ultra-conservatives by comparative radicals holds out some hope that the reform will be effective soon."

DEATH BLOW WITH BIBLE

London—The Geneva correspondent of the Daily Express cables: "Tragic results followed the first quarrel of a young Italian couple yesterday on the conclusion of their honeymoon trip at Como. High words passed between the man and his wife over a trivial matter. The woman exasperated by a remark made by her husband, threw a heavy, metal-bound Bible at him. The Bible struck the man on the temple and killed him instantly. The distracted wife was arrested. Her self-condemnation was painful to witness. The police decided to consider the affair an accident, and the woman was allowed to return home."

Will Aid 45 Families By H. S. Auction

Cooperation With City Welfare Organizations Will Prevent Duplication

Women from a number of the city welfare organizations are investigating all families which will be remembered with Thanksgiving cheer barrels after the senior auction of Appleton high school, which will take place at Armory G on Wednesday afternoon. The number of children and sex of each is being determined before the list is completed so under-wear and stockings for the children may be included in the barrels.

It is possible that the high school will take care of as many as 45 needy families for Thanksgiving. The number was 33 last year. The cooperation of welfare societies with the high school students in taking care of the Thanksgiving donations makes the auction entirely a community affair. Every name submitted to the high school has been checked up and found to be worthy of help.

Students are most enthusiastic about their work for the needy families in the city and are anxious that they make as much money as possible for filling the barrels. Every precaution is being taken to prevent any duplication of effort in the giving of the year's cooperation between various welfare societies and students is comparatively new. Some mistakes may be made, but those of last year are being rectified this year.

100 Present At Installing Of Yeoman Heads

About 50 couples attended the open installation of officers of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen in south Masonic hall Wednesday evening. Raymond E. Schneider, state manager of the order conducted the ceremonies. Mr. Schneider, in a short talk, told members and their friends of the plan of the Yeomen to establish a children's home as soon as a suitable site can be secured. An effort will be made to secure one in or near Appleton.

Dancing was enjoyed following the program.

HER AILMENTS ALL GONE NOW

Mrs. Sherman Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lake, Michigan.—"About one year ago I suffered with irregularities and a weakness and at times was obliged to stay off my feet. I doctored with our family physician and he finally said he could not understand my case, so I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

After I had taken the first bottle I could see that I was getting better. I took several bottles of the Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and I am entirely cured of my ailments. You may publish this letter if you wish."

Mrs. M. SHERMAN, Route 2, Lake, Mich. There is one fact women should consider and that is this. Women suffer from irregularities and various forms of weakness. They try this and that doctor, as well as different medicines. Finally they take Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound, and Mrs. Sherman's experience is simply another case showing its merit.

If your family physician fails to help you and the same old troubles persist, why isn't it reasonable to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound?

Kaukauna—Roland Radder, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Radder, was removed from St. Elizabeth hospital Tuesday where he has been confined for the last six weeks with an injured hip which he received in a game of football. He was required to lie in bed during the entire period with his body in a cast. Young Radder is able now to sit up for a short time each day but it will be several weeks before he will be about again.

KAUKAUNA PERSONALS

Kaukauna—Mrs. Martin DeBruin attended the Pettibone Peabody dance at Appleton Monday evening.

Mrs. Ervin Barkler of Green Bay spent Tuesday with friends in this city.

E. C. Babcock in company with William Zuehlke of Appleton, returned this week from a week's deer hunting trip near Eagle River. Mr. Babcock shot a buck weighing about 170 pounds. Mr. Zuehlke also succeeded in bringing down a deer.

EVELYN THEBO BECOMES BRIDE OF SIMON BRICCO

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Bear Creek—Miss Evelyn Thebo of this village and Simon Bricco of Sugar Bush were married at St. Mary church by the Rev. C. Ripp at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. They were attended by Miss Loretta Thebo, sister of the bride, and Joseph Kaiser.

A wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride for immediate relatives and a wedding supper was served at the home of the bridegroom.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence, Wausau; Mr. and Mrs. M. Laux and children, Clintonville; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Young, Sugar Bush.

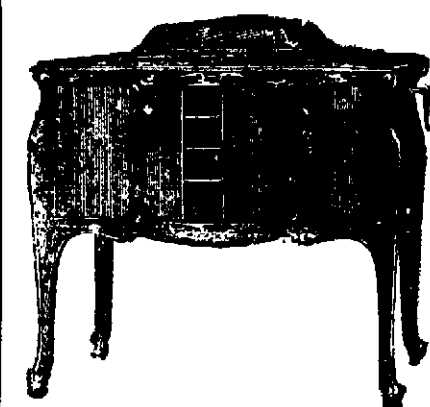

The young couple left on a wedding trip to Michigan. They will make their home at Sugar Bush.

Appleton High School Senior Auction. Proceeds to be used for charity. Armory G, Nov. 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Onkels of Thorold, Ontario, Canada, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Peerenboom while on their way to Westminster, B. C., where Mr. Onkels will be connected with a new papermill in which J. J. Herb is interested. Mrs. Onkels is a sister of Mrs. Peerenboom.

Mrs. Sarah Lowell is the guest of friends at Milwaukee.

Those of you who are not availing yourselves of the opportunity to obtain free admissions to the Elite theatre by sending items to the "Spied Today Editor" of the Post-Crescent are missing something worthwhile. The Elite theatre is offering some of the best pictures ever seen here and the effort required to obtain the free tickets is so slight that it is a wonder that every person in Appleton isn't trying for them. All that you have to do is to be watchful for unusual occurrences that have a news or human interest value, write them in a readable manner and mail or bring them to the "Spied Today Editor." Nearly all of us see or hear something everyday that would be of interest to the editor of the Post-Crescent. Send these observations to the "Spied Today Editor" and, if he believes they are of sufficient interest, you will receive two tickets to the play-house.

FURRIES AROUSED
As I was going home Tuesday night about 11:30 I saw two women on East College-ave waiting at the curb of Park-ave, watching every car that came along. I walked a short distance and watched. In about a half hour a car came by with a lady and a gentleman in it. The waiting woman gave chase and caught up. I followed them and at the park the chasers took the woman out of the car and gave her a thrashing. Her escort fled.

PULL DOWN THE SHADES
While I was walking on Washington-st I spied in an upper window of the Sherman house, a man with his arms around a lady, kissing her and hugging her. The firemen and police men on the opposite corner were enjoying the sight.

ON THE SCREEN

Patrons of the Elite theatre are offered the rare treat of seeing a stirring melodrama produced with the subtle finish and artistry of a stage classic in Thomas H. Ince's special production, "Skin Deep" here this week.

Although the picture is highly melodramatic and is packed with tense situations, it is a type of production that you can freely bring your children to see. Cheap sentimentalism has been religiously kept out of "Skin Deep."

Crooks and police are ever present in "Skin Deep," and guns flash, but there are no murders. There are penitentiaries but no eleven-hour pardons. No innocent girl is called upon to protect her honor. There is no white-haired mother of the escaped convict. Nobody's parentage is questioned.

And yet, with this new style melodrama, Thomas H. Ince has produced some legitimate thrills seldom equalled on the stage. It's the kind of picture you'll urge your neighbors to see. Milton Sills and Florence Vidor are starred.

Milton Sills, one of the most noted interpreters of "crook" roles, takes the lead as a master crook in Thomas H. Ince's remarkable melodrama, "Skin Deep" shown at the Elite for the last time today.

"NICE PEOPLE"
A revue of American fashions from the days of the Pilgrims to the present! This is one of the distinctive pictorial features of William de Mille's production of "Nice People," which will be seen at Fischer's Appleton theater, today.

The occasion is a Fourth of July masquerade ball and the guests appear wearing costumes of every important period of American history. No two costumes are alike. Colonial grand dames, maids of the first revolutionary period, Civil war beauties and dozens of other types are presented with their masculine counterparts.

STOCKING CAME APART
A young woman, quite well known in Appleton, went into a spasm of embarrassment Wednesday afternoon on Lawrence-st. She was leisurely walking along when she felt an unusually cold breeze on her leg. She casually rubbed one foot against the other, stopped suddenly and found to her dismay that the seam in the back of her silk stocking had unraveled, exposing the skin from the knee to the heel. She hustled into a clump of bushes near St. Joseph school to make temporary repairs and then went home.

CONCRETE IS NEEDED
Wednesday morning in the rear of the College Inn I spied Lutz Bros. truck heavily loaded with ice stuck in the mud. After one truck had broken a chain in endeavoring to pull it out it required two big trucks hooked on the rear of the stalled truck to pull it out.

HE HAS THE RIGHT IDEA
Childish minds are contriving Christmas thoughts and schemes these days, but perhaps none of the little ones is more alert than a red-haired chap whom I see every day riding toward town on his tricycle. He goes direct to the Santa Claus mail box in front of Pettibone's store and stays there as long as he thinks his mother will bear his absence. I asked him one day what his object was.

"Maybe Tanny Claus will turn and get the letters while I am here and then I will see him," the eager little fellow said in reply.

PUT OVER A BLUFF
Last Sunday morning in front of the Presbyterian church, I saw a young man trying to park a Ford sedan, when one of the new busses crashed into his machine, bending the fender, twisting the axle and breaking one of the back wheels. The driver of the bus got out and scolded the young man for holding out his hand and for being in his way. The young man was so surprised he never said a word when the bus driver drove away without paying the damages.

NO LIGHTS ON WAGON
Coming home from Shiocton Tuesday afternoon about 5 o'clock east of Greenville, going up an incline, my friend and I saw a team coming west, and just behind it a car. My friend said, "He will be lucky if he doesn't get hit by the car." He had no more than said this when the crash came. Team, wagon and all were thrown into the ditch. We stopped immediately and found that the man and lady were not injured very badly, but within a few moments the man began to complain about his back. They were taken to their home. The occupant of the car escaped uninjured and the car was damaged so little that he proceeded on his way home to New London. The wagon was without lights.

BUSINESS FOR OTTO
Last night as I was coming out of Otto Reiter's repair shop I met a man bringing a wrecked bicycle. He said a boy had been riding the bicycle and that he had hit him with his truck. He told us the boy was not hurt and that he had taken him into the J. E. Penny Co store. The bicycle was a girl's model and had both wheels smashed and the handlebar post was bent.

Student Ire Aroused By Dance Edict

All-College Party Deprives Greek Letter Societies Of Dance Quota

Sororities and fraternities at Lawrence college have been penalized for the first all-college dance, which took place at Armory G on Saturday evening after the Hamline game and homecoming banquet. At a meeting of the disciplinary committee, composed of members of the faculty including Dr. Samuel Plantz, president of the college, Miss Mary Louise Brown, dean of women, Dr. F. M. Ingler, Dr. W. S. Naylor, dean of men, and Dr. J. C. Lymer, it was decided that since the dance had been participated in by fraternity and sorority members that the penalty for the all-college affair would be to deprive each Greek letter group of one of its usual two dances during the year.

As soon as the decision of the committee was made known on the campus, general indignation arose among the students, those unaffiliated with Greek letter organizations sharing it as well as those who are members. The indignation was caused by the alleged fact that a large percentage of the attendance at the dance was non-Greek letter and that the penalty included only the members of such organizations.

IS SORE SPOT
The matter of all-college dances at Lawrence long has been a bone of contention between students and faculty.

According to Dr. Plantz, Tau Tau Kappa, honorary "pep" fraternity, asked permission to include in an all-college dance in the plans for celebration after the Hamline game and it was refused the permission. He said that rumors of an all-college dance were afloat on the campus all week and that the fraternities must have known about the plan and been parties to it. He said when his attention was called to the fact that some fraternities and sororities had no members present at all at the party he felt that these should be exempted from the penalty if such was the case.

DRAMA CLUB AT NEENAH TO SEE PLAYS STAGED

Several members of the Appleton Women's Club Dramatic workshop and the Drama club went to Neenah on Wednesday evening to witness the production of two one act plays by members of the Neenah Girls club. The members of the cast of "The Florist Shop" from the local club were especially interested in the presentation of that play by the Neenah group. "The Twelve Pound Look" was the other one given.

MANY MERCHANTS TO ATTEND DINNER

With competition keen for attendance honors, Appleton retail merchants will hold the biggest banquet in history at 6:15 Thursday evening in the Venetian room of the Sherman house. A similar dinner is being held in Oshkosh and Appleton men intend to outdo the tradesmen of that city. Leonard D. Smith, city planner, will give a short, illustrated talk on zoning and a number of local men will address the gathering briefly on local problems. It is expected that some valuable suggestions for civic betterment will emanate from the discussions.

BLOUNT IN WEST TO PICK SEED FOR CABBAGE GROWERS

Farmers Are Not Discouraged By Low Prices Obtained For Fall Crop

The 1924 cabbage crop of Outagamie-co will be superior to the crops that have been raised here in the past, if plans of county cabbage growers succeed.

Percy Blount, Grand Chute farmer, who is spending several weeks in Idaho and Washington, has been delegated by Outagamie County Cabbage Growers association to inspect the cabbage crop at Mt. Vernon, Wash., from which the seed for the 1924 cabbage crop in Outagamie-co will be obtained.

He will pull out some of the best cabbage heads for seed, selecting the well-rounded heads. He will bring some sample heads with him and show them at the next meeting of the county cabbage growers to be held some time in December.

The association is endeavoring to produce a uniform type of cabbage in the county so as to command better market prices. The low market prices of this fall have not discouraged the veteran cabbage growers. They are, on the contrary, preparing for bigger and better crops in the future. Shortage of cars, as a result of the rail and coal strikes, largely was responsible for the poor cabbage prices this year. Some of the farmers are storing their cabbage to be marketed later.

NEWSIES VOTE FOR CAGE TEAM; ELECT OFFICERS

The Post-Crescent Newsies again will have a basketball team ready to compete with other teams of their class, according to a decision made at a meeting on Tuesday evening. Daniel Steinberg was elected president of the club, Edward Stilt, vice president, Edward DeYoung, secretary, and Raymond Murphy, treasurer.

The regular meeting night of the club was chosen as Tuesday. It was decided that any newsboy may become a member of the club before the next meeting on Nov. 28 without a regular initiation. After that date any boy who wishes to become a member must "ride the goat." A half hour of games followed the meeting. There were 13 members present.

FORM FIRST SCHOOL FOR NIGHT WATCHMEN

Milwaukee—Wisconsin is to have the first school in the country for the training of industrial plant, night watchman, according to James Williamson, assistant manager, Safety division, Milwaukee Association of Commerce. ## Kidney and Bladder Troubles HAVE TO GO

Clogged up Kidney Deposits are Dissolved and the Toxins (Poisons) Completely Driven Out. Druggists Told to Guarantee it in Every Instance.

"Your very life," says Dr. Carey, "depends upon the perfect functioning and health of your kidneys so whatever you do don't neglect them."

Dr. Carey's famous Prescription No. 777 (known for years as Marshroot) is not recommended for everything, but we cannot too strongly urge its use if you suffer from annoying bladder troubles, frequent passing of water night and day, with smarting or irritation, brick dust sediment or highly colored urine, bloating, irritability with loss of flesh, or any other tendency to Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Gravel, for kidney disease in its worst form may be stealing upon you.

Don't wait until tomorrow to begin the use of this wonderful prescription now obtainable in both liquid and tablet form if you have any of the above symptoms. Kidney and Bladder troubles don't wear away. They will grow upon you slowly, stealthily and with unfailing certainty. If you even suspect that you are subject to Kidney Disease, don't lose a single day for Schlitz Bros. Company and every good druggist has been authorized to return the purchase money on the first big bottle to all who state they have received no benefit. adv.

U. S. MUST GRANT NEW FUND TO KEEP RIVER NAVIGABLE

Chamber Of Commerce Will Aid Shipping Companies To Get Needed Repairs

Appleton Chamber of Commerce will redouble its efforts to help Fox River valley cities gain larger appropriations for improvement of the Fox river, following receipt of a letter from Ben G. Prugh of Fox River Navigation company, Kaukauna, telling of the needs of boat owners.

Mr. Prugh declares that temporary repairs made at Little Rapids following washing out of the locks last summer have exhausted the appropriation made by the government for bettering navigation conditions. The United States engineering department has filed requests with congress for extra money and the chamber here will use its influence to have them passed.

There are many places where repairs are necessary, Mr. Prugh writes, especially at a point below De Pere locks. There is a rock ledge which hinders operation of boats, he says. He believes Appleton ought to be one of the most active cities in this agitation, because it receives more coal by boat than any city in the valley.

This matter has been referred by Secretary Hugh G. Corbett to the committee on waterways, of which J. D. Steele is chairman. The chamber already is on record as favoring deepening of Fox river channel.

All Fat People Should Know This

Fat people owe a debt of gratitude to the author of the now famous Marmola Prescription, and are still more indebted for the reduction of this harmless, effective obesity remedy to tablet form. Marmola Prescription Tablets can be obtained at all drug stores the world over at the reasonable price of one dollar for a case, or you can secure them direct on receipt of price from the Marmola Co., 4812 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. This new leaves no excuse for dieting or violent exercise for the reduction of the overfat body to normal. adv.

TRACTOR AND TRUCK ARE Mired IN CROSSING CREEK

After having dredged one side of Mud creek for the bridge that is to be erected there, Blake Paving and Construction company in endeavoring to avoid making a roundabout trip of four miles proceeded to move its dredge and truck through the creek and mired them Wednesday afternoon. The caterpillar tractor which had demonstrated unusual power on all sorts of roads could not perform the task. As a result, traffic was blocked for the remainder of the day on the temporary bridge.

Work on Roads

Towns in the county are engaged in fall road improvement. The towns of Center and Grand Chute have been somewhat active this fall in repairing side roads. Roads are being re-graveled and brush is being cut down in preparation for winter. Overseers William Schmelling and George Lanzlotz of Center have done considerable work.

KOOLS BROTHERS TO LAUNCH PARING MACHINE FACTORY

Inventors Lease Part Of Former Reliance Plant For New Venture

Another of Appleton's infant industries, Kools Manufacturing company, is about to take its first step toward enlargement. Space has been leased at the plant of Appleton Motor Truck company, formerly Reliance Motor company, and manufacture of vegetable paring machines will be started on a more extensive scale shortly after Jan. 1.

Incorporation of Kools Manufacturing company has been completed with three brothers as officers: William Kools, president, Edward Kools, vice president, and Frank Kools, secretary and treasurer. Another brother, Bernard Kools, who now is in Chicago and engaged in patenting, will come here to direct the technical end of the company. Attorney J. J. Jones will devote a portion of his time to the new company as its business director. The capital stock is $5,000 in preferred stock and 100 shares of common stock have been authorized.

An office will be opened by the company in the First National bank building on Dec. 1 from where the sales will be handled.

HAVE NOVEL MACHINE

Kools brothers are inventors of a novel machine for peeling potatoes and other vegetables and a series of recommendations obtained here and elsewhere, where large commercial kitchens are maintained, depict it as the only one of its kind. It is a simple machine, with a hand crank, which is operated with the fingers. It is used by holding the vegetable as in a lathe and turning on the power, it peels quickly, taking a continuous but thin covering from the vegetable and peeling it.

Some of the features employed at a local hotel, which have been used in the past, were then fastened to a shop at their home, and the machine was used to peel potatoes. It is this machine which was used to peel potatoes for the first time.

PICK GRESL FARM FOR BULL AUCTION

High Class Breeding Strains Are Found In 16 Holsteins
To Be Offered

Pick Gresl farm, 12 miles west of Appleton, has been chosen by the Appleton Post-Crescent for the auction of 16 Holsteins, which will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 29, at the residence of James J. Pick, owner of the farm.

Among the 16 bulls offered for sale are some of the high record breeding strains of the Holstein cattle world. The animals are from highly productive dams, with official records and sired by proven bulls with advanced records.

One of the bulls is from a dam with a record of 10,000 pounds and sired by a grandson of the famous Du Pont bull, Mr. Mercedes. Another is from a dam with 9,000 pounds of butter in a year's record and sired by a son of Cream II.

Some of the other bulls are: One from a dam with a record as a cow of 16 pounds of butter in 7 days; one from a dam, but is a grandchild of a 24 pound cow; one from a dam with a 21 pound record.

Home-made, but Has No Equal for Coughs

Makes a family supply of really dependable cough medicine, easily prepared, and saves about $2.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold, accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with a cough and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any drug store can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good and is white of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and dissolves the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that cause the throat and bronchial tubes to cough from time to time, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

OPPOSE EXPENSE OF MORE FIREMEN

Fire And Water Committee To Ask Council Not To Hire 9 Men

The fire and water committee of Appleton common council will go before the council at its next meeting with a recommendation not to increase the force of the fire department which was requested by the department some time ago.

While the committee is, on the other hand, not in favor of reducing the personnel or cutting the salaries of the men, it does not find it advisable to increase the force by 9 men, as recommended by Chief G. P. McGilgan. The added expense would amount to about $13,000. The committee felt that in view of other added expenses the coming year, the council would hold existing costs as much as practicable.

RADIO NEWS

What sounds are broadcast best by radio?

The human voice, say managers of radio broadcasting stations. And of that the soprano is most faithful reproduced by the transmitting microphone and the receiving instruments.

The most difficult sound to broadcast is that of the corner or any other of the brass instruments.

And what makes the saxophone and bassoon so troublesome is the clicking of the stops. They aren't heard over the footlights when an artist plays directly before an audience. But the delicate microphone catches the sounds of these clicks and not only forwards them but exaggerates them in transmission.

Only recently have broadcast managers succeeded in sending instrumental music to the air with any degree of accuracy. The piano gave considerable trouble. The bass notes caused what is termed "blasting" in the microphone. This was heard as harsh crackling at the receiving end. The high notes would not lend themselves to transmission, while those that did came over as a shrill, shrill sound. The piano and the bass notes of microphones finally solved this trouble. Now the piano can be reproduced with quite a degree of fidelity.

The stringed instruments, especially the violin, have given no trouble from the beginning. They can be reproduced most faithfully. Instruments of percussion, such as the bells and xylophone and woodwind instruments like the clarinet and flute, are easily reproduced by radio.

But when it comes to the brass instruments, there is a worry for the manager. Those that have many mechanical steps must not come near the microphone, or the clicks would be heard through all the music. Those with heavy, vibrant sounds may be muffled on the microphone—highly developed as it is today—would come under the strain.

For this reason it is quite an art for a broadcast manager to place the pieces of an orchestra so that the best will be obtained from each instrument and the whole concert reproduced without a flaw.

Women Cannot Expect Equal
Pay With Men For Like Work
Due To Home-making Obligations, Professor Argues

"Yes, education does mean an increase in the monetary value of a man, but the money increase is not the most important thing," said Dr. H. C. Cooley, head of the department of education at Lawrence college when asked about his recent statement at Iron Mountain, Mich., in which he gave the monetary value of a high school student at $3,000. Dr. Cooley arrived at his valuation by means of a number of tables of statistics which have been compiled by educational experts.

Dr. Cooley believes that although education fits a man for a bigger place in a community from the standpoint of the money which he can earn, the most important service of education to the man and to the community is his increased value as a citizen of that community. He said every man is entitled to make enough money to keep his family in comfort and that a college education helps to do this. The increased enjoyment of doing his work in which he is engaged is the reward of a college man.

DOUBTS SLOGAN
Just along this line Dr. Cooley has in this slogan of "Equal pay for equal work" said Dr. Cooley. "When a young man starts out on his business career he has 40 years of active life ahead of him in which he must take care of a wife and family. When a young woman starts out on her vocation it is probably of two or three years' duration and then she must care for her living indirectly by raising a family. It is not fair to the man that a woman should receive as much money as he because he must carry a greater burden. There is some inequality in my theory for the woman who through force of circumstances must stay in business, but the lesser salary is the price she pays for living in society."

The professor explained that if an equal burden of financial responsibility must rest on the women, there is an inequality wrought not only on the woman but on her children and children's children. He says that since it is a biological fact that women must bear and raise children, there are

GIVES PROOF
Several groups of statistics are cited by the educator in proof of his statement concerning the monetary value of a high school student. Dr. William Farr, registrar of vital statistics for Great Britain has figured out that a one-day-old baby is worth $30, while a 50 year old person is worth $4,000. The same statistician says that a 5-year-old child is worth $950 and a 10-year-old child is worth $2,000.

Another group of statistics from the Brooklyn schools show that although a second group of boys remained in school four years longer than the first group, they earned in seven years $1,812 more apiece on the average than did those who had left school at the age of 14 and worked 11 years. The boys who started out at 14 years of age received $200 a year for the first two years, $250 for the next two and $350 for the next two years while the boys who started at 18 after four years of high school received $500 a year to start with. It must be remembered that these statistics were compiled before the great increase in pay.

Other facts given by Dr. Cooley to substantiate his own conclusions are those of other prominent educators. According to a study of Dr. Charles Thwing of the 100 wealthiest men in the United States considered with reference to the total population, there were 277 times as many college-bred men as there were noncollege-bred men.

CONTAGION WAVE PASSED CITY BY

There is a widespread epidemic of diphtheria in a few other Wisconsin cities, but the number of cases in Appleton has been held down to a gratifying degree. Two persons afflicted with the disease will be released this week leaving the number of cases at five. Four of them were reported this week. One new case of scarlet fever also was reported to Dr. W. C. Felton, health commissioner. All cases of contagion are scattered about the city. There has been very little contagion in the Sixth ward thus far.

Is Your Back Giving Out?

Is a bad back making you miserable? Are you tortured with a dull, aching backache, and sharp, stabbing pains? It's time then, you looked to your kidneys. A cold, a strain, or overwork has probably weakened your kidneys and brought on that nagging backache, those headaches, dizzy spells and kidney irregularities. Don't wait for some serious trouble. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Your home folks recommend them. Ask your neighbor!

An Appleton Case
Mrs. C. D. Ingethron, 351 Morrison St., says: "I had kidney trouble and suffered from distressing backaches and pains across my loins. Nights, my back ached and pained badly and mornings I was stiff and lame. I used three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and I have had no occasion to use a kidney medicine since. I give Doan's the credit for my cure."

LOAN ASSOCIATION GROWS; IS STORY OF HOMEBUILDING

Appleton Organization Enjoying Biggest Year In Its History

Appleton Building and Loan association is enjoying the biggest year since its organization and it is possible that the gain in amount of loans over last year will exceed 50 per cent, according to figures compiled by George H. Beckley, secretary.

Importance is attached to these figures, not so much because this organization is growing, but because this represents part of the progress Appleton is making in overcoming its scarcity of homes. Again there is the declaration of thrift, for the growth in loans means many more families putting savings into homes of their own.

Loans made on homes from Jan. 1, 1922 to date amount to $59,500, with the possibility that this amount will be increased by the close of the year. Last year's total was $40,050 for the entire 12 months. The association was organized in 1919 and during that year loaned $29,200. The 1920 total was $28,500.

These figures represent total loans of $157,250, or an expenditure in round numbers of about $200,000 on new homes, as the loans represent only a part of the total cost of the buildings.

Much more could have been done for those wanting new homes if more of the investments in Appleton had been put into building and loan work, says Mr. Beckley.

People are becoming educated to the idea gradually, however, after they learned that the local association is a nonprofit body regulated by the state the same as state banks, he says. He receives many requests for stock from people with surplus money who are interested primarily in seeing young married couples obtain homes of their own.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every Druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. Voigt's Drug Store can supply you.

DOHEARTY GETS SALARY INCREASE

County Nurse Is Cut, Deputy County Clerk Given $200 Raise

Dr. F. P. Dohearty was reelected county physician at the county board meeting Wednesday. The salary committee recommended no change in his salary, but after he was called before the board and enumerated his duties the supervisors increased his salary to $500. The salary of the county nurse was cut from $1800 to $1500 with an allowance of $500 for expenses. The county judge was allowed an extra clerk at a salary of $600, and the municipal judge was allowed an appropriation of $300 for extra office help. The salary of the deputy county clerk was increased from $1,000 to $1,200.

The First National bank, Citizens National bank and Appleton State bank submitted rates for depository of county funds which were: First National bank, 2 1/2 per cent; Citizens National bank, 3 per cent; Appleton State bank 2 1/2 per cent. They were referred to the finance committee.

Among the reports submitted were those of the county nurse, county auditors, committee on poor accounts, and a special committee that was appointed to consider changing of a certain trunk line which recommended that the best interests of the county would be served by permitting it to remain where it is.

The application of A. G. Koch as county auditor for two years was laid over until Thursday. A resolution relating to the filing of all county petitions 30 days in advance of the meeting of the county board was adopted. The board adjourned until 9:30 Thursday morning in order to permit members to accept an invitation to visit the county asylum and county workhouse.

Watch Board Work

Members of the class in civics at the vocational school which at present is studying county government, attended the session of the county board at the courthouse Wednesday. They were in charge of their instructor, Mrs. M. S. Peerenboom.

City Officials Prove Good Teachers To H. S.

Democracy Class Is Helped In Obtaining Lesson Material

Whenever the problems of democracy class at Appleton high school sets out on one of its problems, someone has to furnish the information. Some people are in such positions in the city that they have to cooperate with nearly every problem, while others are consulted only occasionally. Members of the classes have tried to find some means of expressing their gratitude to these people other than just "thank you."

Among the people to whom the classes feel indebted are the officers in the city hall who have been kind and patient in doing all they can for the students. O. F. Weissgerber, the city engineer, has given city maps to many of the students for their work. He has advised them concerning city planning and zoning. He accompanied H. H. Heible's class on its tour about the city to points of interest in planning and zoning.

E. L. Williams has been called upon for sample ballots, ordinances, annual reports of city officials and much other information. Dr. W. C. Felton has agreed to talk to freshmen classes on personal hygiene. Miss Carrie Morgan, city superintendent of schools, has given many statistics on schools which have proved valuable in the working out of problems.

Miss Florence Day, librarian, has been helpful to the classes. She has had separate files of articles of civic interest kept for the students. She has sent away for debate materials and reserves a shelf for American history and civics materials for the use of the students. Chief George P. McGillan of the fire department has talked to the students on fire prevention and given demonstrations of the department for all the seniors of the school. He has also worked with the Boy Scouts on fire drill.

Chief George T. Prim has loaned valuable records to H. H. Heible in order that the classes may make a crime chart for Appleton for the past ten years. Because of the nature of these records, they were loaned to the instructors rather than to the students. The chamber of commerce and Hugh G. Corbett, its secretary, have done a great deal for the students. It was in that office that the questionnaire to 50 cities was mimeographed and from Mr. Corbett the students have been able to get maps, city plans, booklets of various kinds and publications. Mr. Corbett has been helpful in giving advice about civic enterprises.

Your bowels may seem regular—move every day—yet your thirty feet of bowels may be lined with poisonous waste which is being sucked into your blood, keeping you half sick, nervous, despondent and upset. Whether you have headache, colds, sour stomach, indigestion, or heart palpitation, it is usually from bowel poison.

Hurry! One or two Cascarets to-night will clean your bowels right. By morning all the constipation poison and sour bile will move out—no more! Cascarets will not sicken you—they physic fully, but never gripe or inconvenience.

Children love Cascarets too. 10 cent boxes, also 25 and 50 cent sizes. Any drug store.

LAST DATE NEAR TO ASK U. S. TRAINING

The rehabilitation act which provides for vocational education of certain classes of disabled veterans has a provision which states that applications for vocational education must be made prior to Dec. 15, 1922, declares Col. Charles R. Forbes, director of the United States veterans bureau.

There are several ways in which this application for vocational training can be made, he said. Application may be made by writing a letter to any one of the bureau offices expressing a desire to apply for the training which the government offers. It should be remembered that it is necessary for the applicant to sign his name so that the bureau may consider the application as made by the man himself. Wherever it is possible it is best for the applicant to make his application in person at one of the district or subdistrict offices of the veterans bureau.

Application also may be made at the Red Cross office on the second floor of the armory.

COUGH?
Try PISO'S—satisfyingly quick relief. As sure as all others—pleasant—does not upset stomach—no opiates, 35c and 60c everywhere.

TO RID YOURSELF OF A COLD

Colds are contagious. Colds lead to la grippe. Colds lead to pneumonia and death. Colds are not hard to cure if taken in hand.

Go to the drug store and get an ordinary twenty-five cent jar of what is known as Mucco-Solvent Salve. Also get some castor oil or epsom salts.

Melt some of the salve in a spoon, inhale the vapors, clear the head. Insert some of the salve in each nostril, close mouth and breathe deeply; this reaches the upper respiratory tract, soothes the inflamed membranes. Repeat each hour.

After a light supper take the purgative and go to bed. Rub Mucco-Solvent Salve thickly on chest, cover with warm flannels. Sleep with window open.

Tomorrow the cold will probably be gone.

Pneumonia Follows Slight Cold.

At this time of the year a slight cold can become a bad cold in an hour and a bad cold can develop into pneumonia before morning. People die this way every day.

Why neglect a cold? Give it instant attention. If taken in time it can be thrown off quickly, easily, surely.

Use Mucco-Solvent Salve the minute you start to sneezing and thus probably avoid sickness.

Call a Doctor.

If your cold persists, take no chances, call your doctor, he can cure you and thereby protect your relatives and friends from catching it.

Dr. L. W. Giffin, who practiced at Neenah, Wis., some years ago, had unusual success in treating affections of the head, throat and chest. He used a prescription that loosened and expelled the phlegm or mucus that accumulates in such conditions. He became widely known. Druggists in several counties became familiar with his prescription, which was somewhat expensive to prepare. Then a company was formed to make it in quantity and thus reduce the cost. Dr. Giffin's medicine is today known as Mucco-Solvent (Liquid). It is sold in many drug stores in 75c and $1.00 bottles.

A cold that has gotten out of hand can often be relieved with Mucco-Solvent Liquid in conjunction with Mucco-Solvent Salve. Consult your druggist; ask Union Pharmacy; R. C. Lowell; Schlitz Bros.; Downer's Pharmacy and Kaukauna Drug Co. at South Kaukauna; Edwin J. Gitter, at Hortonville; H. M. Rouse at Dale.

Triumphs of M. Jonquille

THE MOTTLED BUTTERFLY

The opera had opened. The music began to fill the corridors. But M. Jonquille did not go in.

He remained idling in the foyer, a cigarette in his fingers, his manner and in a well-bred bored indifference. The whole house was crowded. There was not a vacant seat.

It was the last performance in Paris of Mme Zircenoff's Salome. A few belated persons passed M. Jonquille and entered the doors to the boxes.

Some of these persons addressed him as he regarded him. He was a well-known figure in Paris. His friendship was worth something, and whether one knew him or cared to know him, all were curious about the man.

The vast music assembled and extended itself. The foyer became empty and still. M. Jonquille did not go in.

Perhaps it was because Mme Zircenoff had not gone on. She was a famous beauty, her Salome had the abandon which stimulated even the added notes of France. It had been on at the Opera for fifty days and Paris was still keen to see it.

The woman was a Russian exotic, one of those alluring creatures that always assembled a fabulous legend. There was a wild passion in her Salome and her conquests were the gossip of Paris.

The opera had continued for perhaps thirty minutes. Mme Zircenoff had come on her voice like a silver bell reached M. Jonquille clearly where he sauntered in the foyer.

Presently the door to a box opened and one of the pages of the theater appeared with an immense bouquet of orchids. The flowers were worth a thousand francs. They could have been given in Paris only with extreme care and under a very perfect form of light and temperature.

It seemed to have drawn his attention. M. Jonquille. He stepped the page as he passed him.

Then he said landing him a piece of card. He found a box of cigars before him. He took them. "Quel bon cadeau," he said. "I will take them with me."

The box knew the great chief of the service de la Surete.

He gave M. Jonquille the bouquet of orchids and disappeared down the corridor. He had gone handsomely, when he returned. M. Jonquille had moved from his position by a pillar of the foyer. He handed back the orchids to the page and received the box of cigars.

He paused a moment, fingered the box but did not open it. Instead he walked a few steps down the corridor and entered the box from which the page had come out with the orchids.

One looking on could have won dered at the effect of blue required a back of cigars. The box of cigars was a good one, especially as after having turned it in his hand he put it back into his pocket and entered a box.

It would appear that he was for these cigars before entering the box. But to what end? One could not smoke in a box at the Opera at its most expensive point in the ultra-fashionable audience of Paris. Although the great opera house was packed with people, not a vacant seat was to be seen. There was but one person in the box which M. Jonquille had entered.

He was the person that anyone would prize a moment anywhere to observe. He was young, he was exquisitely dressed, a dandy in which there was some of the over-extravagance of detail that suggestion of elegance which the Parisian cannot avoid.

He was a young man and extreme handsome, a blond, keen type with a dainty mustache and regular Italian features and thick soft yellow hair preventing the gloss of the sea's coat. In his physical aspect for perfection of detail the man had no equal on the Paris boulevards.

It had got him a real American wife and lifted him as a fair lamp out of the sordid environments of an old family in decay. The thing seemed a piece of the design of a Providence with an esthetic sense. This exquisite person would have been incongruous except in an atmosphere of wealth. He had an apartment now beyond the Arc de Triomphe one of those wonderful apartments that the American invasion after the Great War had set up in Paris.

The Marquis was the envy of the boulevardier. But it was rumored that he had not the freedom of his wife's money sacks. He got what she allowed him but it ought to be written here in justice to the Marquis that it was not he who complained. Why should he? The allowance was evidently enough for any reasonable man. He had the best of everything if he felt any sense of want there was no sign either by word or act.

In form the Marquis was above reproach. There could be no surprise to the fashionable audience of Paris in the fact that the Marquis was alone in the box. His wife was on a visit to America and it was better fitting that the Marquis should be alone than to be with another who might console him for his wife's absence. If the Marquis was not the best of men he was at any rate not the least discreet.

He rose and bowed when he perceived entered.

"Ah, monsieur," he said. "I am charmed to see you. Mme Zircenoff will be even worth an hour of the priceless time of the Perfect of Paris."

I shall be honored to have you as guest. Please sit down. M. Jonquille sat down. He looked a moment at the vast audience brilliant and distinguished. A moment at Mme Zircenoff on the distant stage and then he addressed his host.

Monsieur, he said. "Mme Zircenoff is I imagine beyond rubies. But I have not come here to observe her. I have come to ask you about the robber in your apartment. That was an extraordinary robbery."

It was most extraordinary, Monsieur replied the Marquis. The whole of Paris regretted that you were out of France at the time. Where were you, monsieur?

Then the Marquis added with a laugh. You cannot be expected to tell me you protect us, monsieur. If the Lecca could see tomorrow M. Jonquille would be in Brussels. We should not have a jewel or a five-franc piece remain in Paris.

Alas, monsieur, replied the Prefect. You do me too much honor. There are a number of very good men with the service de la Surete quite as capable as I to protect Paris.

The Marquis laughed. "You have an affection for our associates," M. Jonquille said. I fear clouds your intelligence. Nothing could have been managed more stupidly than the investigation of my apartment. In your absence, monsieur, you cannot imagine into what hopeless commotion the investigation of a criminal affair in Paris can descend.

Alas, monsieur, there is a rift fixed between Alexander and the lieutenant of Alexandre. But for my own feeble efforts, nothing would have resulted from the police investigation in my apartment. The neck-lace of diamonds which the Marquis purchased for his hundred thousand francs—acquired from the crown jewel of Russia—would have disappeared without a clue to the thief. As it happened he was brought to justice, he confessed and was sentenced for an incredible period by the court. But for me—and again the Marquis laughed—there would have been no thief sentenced. Your inspectors, monsieur, were ridiculous.

There was humility in the Prefect's reply.

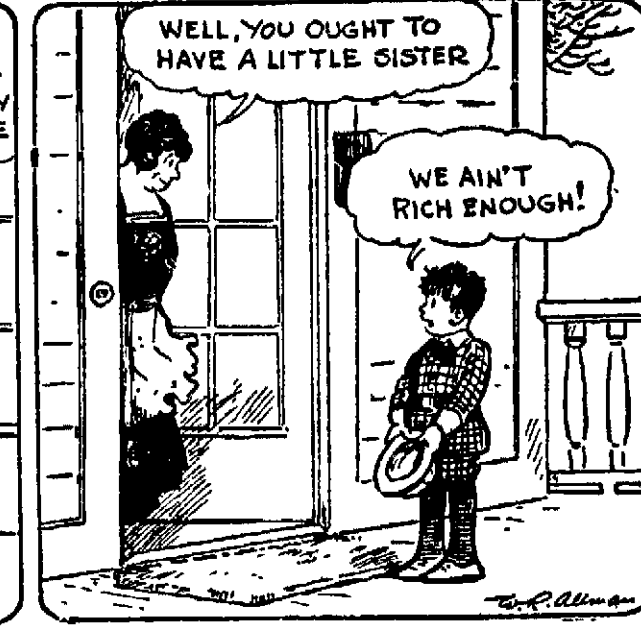

"And the Marquis (Chantelle was magnificent. His fame in the affair has reached me. He is the admiration of the Surete. I have come, monsieur, to verify the details and from myself. I do not know what rumor may have added or omitted."

"HOMESICK"—Fox Trot
"JI-JI-BOO"—Fox Trot Played by Carl Fenton's Orchestra
Brunswick Record No. 2325—75c

Irving Berlin again, after such hits as "All By Myself" and "Some Sunny Day" presents another hit with the title "Homesick." In the opening serve and chorus you will note that the main theme is carried very interestingly by the Saxophone, later on Trumpeted by the Brasses, punctuated with staccato Banjo hits and the final verse as played by the Violin makes your homesickness pleasing. "Ji-Ji-Boo" is of Zulu extraction. At least it's written about a Fi-Ji Queen so we guess it's Zulu alright. The opening line of this record assures its success. The Symbols the Soprano Sax and the Tom Tom lend to this number an Oriental atmosphere that assures the success of "Ji-Ji-Boo."

A PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

RECIPES

Style Makes Woman Ideal, Not A "Pal"

Dignity or line, richness of material, and depth of color are characteristic of the new mode for daytime wear. The woman of 1922 no longer desires to look like a "good pal," boyishly dressed in a short trim belted coat of practical materials. That was the war ideal in Europe when the "permissionnaires," home for a few days from the agony of the front, desired above all things to find a comrade to share their respite from grim endurance. The result of this most natural wartime desire persisted long in the modes, an indication, perhaps, of the pleasure that the women felt in this new attitude of men, and of their desire for its continuance. It is significant that in this year of grace we should have gone back at last to the dignity of pre-war days, that the Parisienne should once more try to represent herself, Vogue tells us, as the most gorgeous and cultivated product of civilization, mysterious, incomprehensible, and difficult of approach. She has given up her rather pathetic desire to be considered the comrade of man, and is making another attempt to show herself his "ideal." Paris, unique in offering, in the clothes it creates, so true a reflection of the psychology of the time, aids her in the introduction of a more magnificent daytime mode.

Adventures Of The Twins

Changed Into Toys
At last the Twins found Flap-Doodle on the Tinky-Winkle Star. When they knocked at the front door, a voice said, "Come in," and there sat the purple fairy who had stolen the Fairy Queen's wand. "Hello there!" he said in a friendly enough voice. "Hello," answered Nick. "What do you want?" asked Flap-Doodle. "We want that," she said, pointing toward it. "It's the Fairy Queen's wand." "We'll see about that," grinned Flap-Doodle, wagging his head. And before anyone could stop him he waved his wand and said these magic words: "Tink, pick, little stick! Do my will, and do it quick." Instantly Nancy was changed into a baby-doll and Nick into a wooden soldier. They were so surprised they couldn't move. But then, that was the trouble; they couldn't move anyway now that they were toys, even with their little Green Shoes, which struck bravely on in spite of Nancy's hissing legs and Nick's elegant regiments. "Ha, ha, ha!" roared Flap-Doodle at his own joke. "That's fine! And much easier than having to change myself into a dozen different things every five minutes." "That's a good idea. I'll just go all over the Tinky-Winkle Star and change all the Tinky-Winklers into things that can't move." So out he flew, saying his charm and waving his wand. One Tinky-Winkler was changed into a wooden Indian, one into a scare-crow, and another into a soap-baby. Before long there wasn't a Tinky-Winkler left. (To Be Continued)

TESTED RECIPES

MOCK CHERRY PIE
By Bertha E. Shapleigh
Line a pie plate with a good crust, and fill with one cup cranberries cut in halves, one-half cup raisins seeded and cut in small pieces, one-half cup sugar and one tablespoon flour mixed. Dot over the top two teaspoons butter. Cover with a crust and bake until crust is done and slightly brown.

PASTE FOR PIE
In two cups of flour rub one-fourth cup of lard; add one-half teaspoon salt and mix to a stiff dough with cold water, mixed with one tablespoon lemon juice. Into this dough cut one-half cup of butter, until butter is in very small pieces. Chill, roll out, fold, and repeat twice.

CHEESE CROQUETTES
These croquettes may be served with cream sauce, as the main dish for luncheon or supper. Or made much smaller they are an excellent accompaniment to salad.
2 tablespoons butter
6 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
Yolks 2 eggs
1 pound cheese cut into dice
Salt and cayenne pepper to taste
Fine dried bread crumbs
White of eggs
Melt butter, add flour, and cook without browning for two minutes. Add milk and cook until smooth and thick. Beat eggs slightly, and add to the above with cheese and seasonings. Cook until cheese melts, then spread on a plate to cool. Shape into balls or cylinders; dip in egg whites diluted with a little water, roll in crumbs, and fry one minute in fat hot enough to brown a piece of bread in 30 seconds. Drain.

STYLES FOR MATURITY

Incorrect Correct

The mature woman is likely to forget that her place in the world of fashion is just as important as that of the young person. One of her commonest mistakes is that of trying to hide her age under a garment designed for youth. The sport coat is young, and is made for a slender figure. On a heavy woman it looks bulky and unwieldy. The fur model is appropriate for the mature figure and may be worn with dignity and charm.

Royalty Helps Solve Domestic Problem In Turkey's Capital City

BY MARIAN DALE
Fancy having your morning grapefruit brought to you by a real princess, or having your frocks made by a young and lovely countess—wouldn't it seem queer?
If you lived in Constantinople, says Mathilde Vossler, Y. W. C. A. worker, who just returned from there, and who not only did receive such attentions, but was also instrumental in finding positions for Russian royalty who had fled to Constantinople.
As head of the association's employment bureau for refugees, she placed hundreds of men and women in jobs they would have scorned, as suitable only for an inferior class, a few years ago.
TITLED SERVANTS
"Domestic service is practically the only sort open in Constantinople to refugees," Miss Vossler said. "Consequently it is easier to place women than men, and many titled women there, support their titled husbands washing dishes or making pastry."
"Most of our requests come for maids and cooks, but these were hard to fill because royal refugees have not always been trained for domestic service."
"There was also a demand for children's nurses, but reliable ones were hard to find. Practically every Russian woman had nursed sometime during the war and aspired to become a regular nurse, but it was difficult to standardize their training."

Honeymooner's Abroad

Chapter 7 — Jack Suspicious
By Zoe Beckley
BEGIN HERE TODAY
JACK DURYEA and his bride, EDNA, are combining business and pleasure on their honeymoon in Europe, whether Jack's employers have sent him secretly to investigate alleged treachery of COUSINS, the firm's European manager. On their arrival in Naples Cousins comes to the ship to meet them and informs Jack a strike is on in the Naples office.
GO ON WITH THE STORY
"A strike in our Naples office!" echoed Jack, dismayed.
"Does the home office know?" Cousins shrugged impatiently.
"But no. Certainly not. A mere trifle. An everyday happening in Italy. I would not trouble America with it. And please—please do not let it interfere with your honeymoon. I have the most pleasant program of sightseeing for you."
Jack was silent. Edna knew his mind was full not of honeymoon at that moment but of Monsieur Cousins and the strike.
The big car swung up and on curving roads, from every point of which panoramas of foreign beauty held Edna spellbound.
The clamorous, irregular city below them, the palace, surrounded by

Oyster Dishes

While oysters are in season they make a delightful addition to any meal no matter how unpretentious.

SCALLOPED OYSTERS
One quart or three dozen oysters, one and one-half cups bread crumbs (from the center of a stale loaf), one and one-half cups cracker crumbs, one-fourth cup melted butter, one-fourth cup cream, one-half cup oyster liquor, salt and pepper, slight grating nutmeg.
Pick over and drain from liquor the oysters. Add butter to bread and cracker crumbs. In a layer of crumbs, over this a thick layer of oysters, adding half the cream and oyster liquor. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Repeat and on top of the second layer of oysters have a layer of crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven 30 minutes.
Always have only two layers of oysters, as any more would leave the middle layer underdone, while the top and bottom layers would be overcooked.

OYSTER SOUP
One quart of four dozen oysters, one slice onion, one spring parsley, one-half cup celery, one-fourth cup flour, three tablespoons lard or butter, one teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, few gratings of nutmeg, two cups rich milk or cream.
Pick over, to free from shell, the oysters, and then chop them finely. Add one cup of cold water and cook 20 minutes, having kettle closely covered. Strain through a fine strainer and cook with the onion, celery, parsley and flour, which have cooked in the lard, until slightly brown. When thickened add salt, pepper, nutmeg and cream. Bring to boiling point, season more to taste and serve.

DRESS HINTS

EVENING FROCK
A sapphire blue velvet evening gown with a drapery of silver cloth is decorated with sapphire and pale green beads. The sleeves are elbow length.

SKIRTS FOR SPRING
It is rumored that skirts for spring will be from two and one-half to five yards about the hem. Basque and princess effects are said to be in store for us.

FOR SPORT WEAR
A separate skirt that is unusually good looking is of gray wool with a wrap-around effect at the side back and a wide woven border about six inches above the hem, done in the most vivid reds, blues and greens.

MIDDY BLOUSES
New variations of the middy blouse show decorations of Czech-Slovakian embroidery and gay cross-stitch patterns. Another style is banded about the hips and has a collar and cuffs of checked material.

vently just as a knock on the door brought a message from Cousins. He wanted them for lunch and then an elaborate excursion.
Edna went down alone and made the arranged-for excuse for Jack's bad headache. Cousins looked queerly at her for an instant when she announced that she would go with him alone.
"Ah, I am flattered at the trust Monsieur Duryea puts in me," he said urbanely. "Come, madame, I kiss your hand—and now, we go."

DRY WORLD DREAM OF W. C. T. U. HEAD

Temperance Union Will Continue Work Until Barley-corn Is Dead

(Miss Anna Adams Gordon of Evanston, Ill., has just been elected president of the international body of the W. C. T. U. at that organization's meeting in Philadelphia. Immediately upon her election Miss Gordon gave an exclusive statement to the Post-Crescent outlining the far-reaching projects she will seek to put into effect to make the world dry.)
BY ANNA ADAMS GORDON
Philadelphia — For 40 years the Women's Christian Temperance union has been working for prohibition in 40 nations.
An international educational program has been conducted in practically every civilized part of the globe.

Thousands of workers speaking many languages have been carrying forward the work.
All over the world we have been imparting to peoples of all races the fundamental knowledge of the effect of alcohol on the human system.

EFFORTS ENCOURAGED
Difficulties and obstacles of course have beset these W. C. T. U. workers but they have been encouraged and cheered on by two facts:
ONE: They always have known they were a part of a great organization, that they were all banded together for one purpose, and could count on the support and cooperation of their fellow workers everywhere.
TWO: Almost from the beginning we achieved some results; and with the passing years and the extending of our efforts into newer and larger territories we have seen the work going successfully forward.
In recent years great strides toward world-wide prohibition have been made. With these advancements many reinforcements have joined our ranks. Many rational, thinking men and women the world over who were not originally in sympathy with prohibition have come to see the sound scientific basis of our program and have joined with us and are now lending their best efforts to our work.

TO CONTINUE PROGRAM
We shall carry on our program along practically the same lines we have followed for 40 years, and we are confident of a successful termination of our long-sought objective of world-wide prohibition.
The position of the W. C. T. U. in the matter of cigarettes and tobacco is exactly what it always has been. We do not put tobacco and cigarettes side by side with alcoholic beverages. Our national program on the subject of tobacco is an educational one, outlined and carried forward in the interest of the health of boys and girls everywhere.

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED
You know that a letter of introduction requires immediate recognition in one form or another. Either a call or an invitation should be made within a week or less.
If any circumstances make this impossible, a note of explanation must be written to the author and bearer of the letter.

Move bowels — they never gripe
Dr. KING'S PILLS — for constipation

Public Now Prefers Vegetable Laxatives
Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin affords prompt relief in a natural way
THE public is constantly becoming more discriminating in its choice of things. Those subject to constipation try to learn what makes them constipated, and then avoid it. If constipation persists in spite of all their efforts they take the mildest, most easily tolerated laxative obtainable, and not a drastic physic that upsets them for days afterwards. As over 10 million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are sold a year, a large proportion of the people of this country must believe that this mild vegetable compound is the proper remedy for them, and so it is. No need to take salt waters and powders that dry up the blood; coal-tar drugs in candy form that produce skin eruptions, or calomel that salivates. These drugs are "heroic measures", over-effective, weakening and griping.
The best constipation remedy is the one that moves the bowels without shock to your system, and such a one is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics, and has been satisfactorily sold for 30 years. Unlike the harsher physics it does not produce a habit, and increased doses are not required; in fact, it so trains the stomach muscles that in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with.
Many take a teaspoonful of Syrup Pepsin once a week as a health safeguard. Others use it only when required, as, for example, Mrs. J. W. Burroughs of Little Rock, Ark., who finds it equally valuable for herself and the children, and Mr. Enas S. Costa of Watsonville, Cal., whose family uses it regularly. Try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in constipation, biliousness, piles, headaches, sallow complexion, and to break up fevers and colds. A generous-size bottle can be had at any drug store, and it costs only about a cent a dose!

NEVADA CONSOLIDATED

By Associated Press

Chicago—A general firm tone in the fruit and vegetable market unaffected by a slight decrease in shipments was noted for the week ending Nov. 18.

Markets. Shipments showed a decrease of 15 per cent over the preceding week, partly due to smaller offerings of potatoes and apples. The apple market closed with an indication of weakening prices, the slight curtailment of shipments not causing any strengthening of the tone. However, the potato market indicated a slight increase partly caused by damage to the crop by freezing in the northwest.

APPLETON'S "WEST SIDE" GROWING RAPIDLY

Almost A Complete City
Built Up West Of RavineNearly $3,000,000 Invested In New Homes West Of Superior-st In Last Four Years—
City Grows Toward West

One of the chief causes of surprise for former Appleton residents on returning to this city after an absence of several years is the conspicuous change in the west side. One does not need to have been away for 25 years in order to share in this surprise. Indeed, 10 to 15 years or even the last 5 years, are enough to open the eyes of any wanderer.

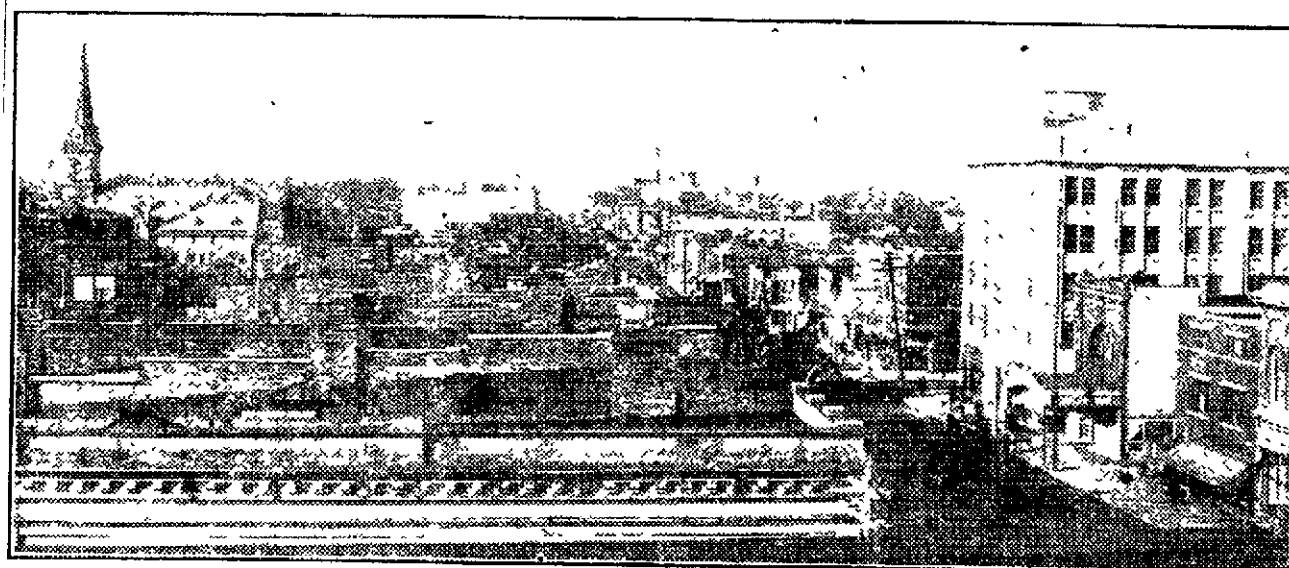

The section of College ave familiarly known as "The Chute," has been transformed into an imposing and thriving commercial street, homes have sprung up like magic all over the Third and Fourth wards, business establishments have been multiplied many new factories have started operation, muddy streets and grassy lanes have been converted into attractive "avenues" and "boulevards", electric street lights, sewers, water mains and other improvements have all helped to make this section of the city a desirable one to live in and to do business in. And all within the period of five to ten years.

MANY FINE HOMES

Among the fashionable thoroughfares of this area are the west part of College ave, the boulevard, and Second-st, on which there are located some of the finest homes in the city. The trolley lines almost encircling the Third ward help to make this position a much coveted residential district.

A hum of trade and manufacture that is taking place in the west side of Appleton has practically made this a little city in itself. West College ave, which though not existing in name is nevertheless a fact, forms the nucleus of business of this territory, with sectional business centers at Appleton Junction and other districts as aides.

ALMOST COMPLETE CITY

Almost every conceivable mercantile establishment is conducting business in this territory. Practically everything that one needs for the maintenance of the home or automobile can be obtained here. The west side has an advantage in two railroad stations. There is a place to do one's banking. A department store, clothing, hardware, shoe, music, drug, crockery, jewelry, furniture products and electrical stores, groceries, meat markets, bakeries, restaurants, barber shops, plumbing, auto supply and shoe repair shops, laundries, wood and coal establishments, service stations, garages are only some of the business houses. A theatre seems to be the only thing that is lacking to make the west side a complete city.

If the city of Appleton has in the last 10 years increased about 4,000 in population, it is safe to say that the major portion of that increased population has been distributed in this part of the city.

Entire plots that were green meadows not so very long ago are dotted with houses. If a distinction is to be made between new Appleton and Old Appleton, the newer portion is to be found in the west end.

SPURT IN LAST FEW YEARS

The development of the west end has been going on steadily for the last 15 years. About six or seven years ago it took on new impetus. But the most noticeable development has occurred with the last four years succeeding the war. Since then the growth has been by leaps and bounds.

If a thousand new homes have been built in the Third and Fifth wards in the last decade between 600 and 700 of them were erected within the four years just past. In those years nearly 70 per cent of the residential building operations has been going on in these two wards. A recent survey conducted by letter carriers shows that of the 200 new homes in the city this year, 148 are in the Third and Fifth wards.

Development in the Fifth ward has been principally west of Richmond-st and north of and including Harris-st. Growth in Third ward has been very extensive especially west of Locust-st. Many new homes are to be found in Clark's addition on College ave, on Fairview Heights and Forest Heights, in the McDonald plat, but an unusually large number have been built in the Hariman and Hyde and in the Gilmore and Hariman additions.

PARK IS BIG FACTOR

One of the contributing factors to the growth of the west end is the city's purchase of Pierce park. Before the park was bought two years ago, the area about Second-st consisted largely of meadows and the streets were mere mud holes. There were no houses from Pierce-ave to Mason-st, and lots in this territory were not saleable.

Since the park was purchased lots in this territory have become among the highest priced in the city, rising from $300 to from $1,500 and $2,000 in value. Seventeen new homes have been built directly across from the park which have an aggregate value of $100,000. The park, before it was purchased was assessed at $20,000. Now surrounding property has tripled in value.

A large number of new homes have also been erected in the last three years in the northern part of the Fifth ward and in the Sixth ward adjoining Second-ave. Paving of Second-ave by the county has contributed materially to the growth of this section.

$3,000,000 IN HOMES

Real estate agents estimate that a total of $3,000,000 has been invested in new homes in the west end within the last four years. The homes erected are housing from 2,500 to 3,000 persons. Several million dollars have likewise been expended in that same period for new business establishments and manufacturing plants in this territory. Buildings of this class erected this year represent probably a value of $1,000,000.

Among the new business houses that have been built in recent years are Hofensperger Brothers meat market, Gloudehans Gage department store, Fox River Motor Car company, St. John garage, Wichmann Furniture company new building, Outagamie County Bank, Soo Line depot, Schiedermayer hardware store, Outagamie hardware store, Puth garage, Rico garage, Auto laundry, Kaminsky Building, Shepherds Laubs real estate office, R. L. Herrman store, Hackleman jewelry store, United Consumers service station, Valley Dairy Products company.

Manufacturing plants erected recently or those building additions are: Mory Ice Cream company, Knoke Lumber company, H. J. Thoreson

WEST END'S BIG STORE

One of the largest institutions in the west end of Appleton is the Gloudehans Gage Co department store which ranks among the finest in the Fox river valley. For years it has been the trading center of thousands of persons and it draws trade from miles around.

The Gloudehans Gage Co. was organized in 1910 with R. T. Gage as president and H. A. Gloudehans as secretary-treasurer. The original building, opened in the fall of 1910, Lumber company, Konz Box and Lumber company, Appleton Wood Products company, Appleton Motor Truck company, Appleton Car factory, Marshall Paper company, Zwicker Knitting company, Weber Knitting company, Heinz Soap factory, Solding Locks, Harpin company, Auto Body works.

In line with the progress of these various building operations have been the various improvements installed by the city. A boulevard pavement laid on College-ave made this street an attractive good. Their showy, measure with that of the past, paving of about a mile on Second-st from Locust-st to the city limits has added wonderfully to the appearance was 34 feet wide by 90 feet long. Two large additions have been built since then. The main building now is 59 feet wide by 120 feet long and the annex is 25 feet wide by 82 feet long.

The store contains eight departments and normally employs 53 persons. During the holiday season and at other times in the year this force is greatly augmented. The Gloudehans Gage Co. is one of the most potent factors in the development of the west side of Appleton.

of that part of the west side. The Second-ave pavement financed by the county has also helped the city greatly.

GROWING WESTWARD

Several miles of sewers have also been laid in this part of the city within recent years, the principal ones being laid on College ave, Lafayette-st, Lawrence-st, Mason-st, Linwood-ave, State-st and Fairview-st.

Engineers, school experts and real estate men agree that the natural growth of the city is westward. If the development of the future will be commensurate with that of the past, some astounding changes can be expected. It is already being debated what effect the erection of the Cherry

BIG SALE OF SMOKES
IN Y. W. C. A. HOTEL

Washington—Selling cigars and smokers' supplies in a hotel patronized exclusively by women is a highly profitable business.

That's why the exclusively feminine Grace Dodge Hotel here owned and operated by the Y. W. C. A. is involved in a suit with Andrew G. Pollock, proprietor of the hotel news stand.

It all started when the national board of the Y. W. C. A., headed by Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., placed a ban on the sale of cigars and tobacco at the hotel.

"Apparently the publicity given to the sale of cigars and the facilities provided for comfort of women smokers at the hotel brought too much criticism from the conservative wing of the Y. W. C. A.," says Pollock.

"Anyway, a few months after the hotel was opened the management asked me to cease displaying smokers' articles. There was at that time no question as to my selling them for that was provided for in my contract."

His hope of making profits from the sale of cigars was the controlling factor in his bidding for the news stand privilege, Pollock sets forth in his suit. And up to the time of the ban, his profits were even greater than he expected, he adds.

Meanwhile Mrs. Rockefeller has announced that no more hotels for women will be undertaken by the National Board of the Y. W. C. A. This one, she said recently, has given the board trouble enough.

"This cigar business alone, it is feared, may raise a greater stench in the organization than can be aired out in months."

Before it is finally decided, the Y. W. C. A. may have to come out definitely one way or another on the issue of women smoking.

st viaduct will have on the development of the west end. To prevent serious mistakes of the past, the city is preparing to fix boundaries for residential and manufacturing districts. The zoning ordinance, it is believed, will direct the development along the proper lines.

GROWTH RIVALS FICTION

Hopfensperger Bros. Have Made Success In Retail Meat Business

Starting With Small Capital 15 Years Ago, Appleton Merchants Have Expanded Business To Large Proportions

The growth of the business conducted by Hopfensperger Bros., wholesale and retail meat dealers, rivals like fiction. Fifteen years ago, Charles A. Hopfensperger, founder, with limited capital, opened a small retail meat market at 1016 College ave. which at that time was at the extreme west end of the business section of the city. His force consisted of himself, delivery boy and one man.

Today his company employs 45 men, operates three markets and with the aid of motor trucks has extended its wholesale business to a radius of 50 miles. Nor is this all. The company is at present planning to add another story to its main building on College ave. and to open additional retail markets in neighboring cities.

When Mr. Hopfensperger started out on his business career he used from two and one-half to three head of cattle a week, about five hogs and possibly two calves. Today his company uses 60 head of cattle, 100 hogs, about 40 calves and a carload of saw edge material for the same period. Its wholesale sausage business amounts to 35,000 pounds a week exclusive of its retail business.

Through extensive advertising, strict attention to business, special effort to please his patrons and attractive prices, Mr. Hopfensperger's business increased rapidly and on days of special sales it was not so much a matter of making purchases as it was to gain entrance to the meat market. People from neighboring cities and villages soon began to take advantage of the prices and usually purchased a week's supply of meat at a time, bringing their baskets and sandwiches with them.

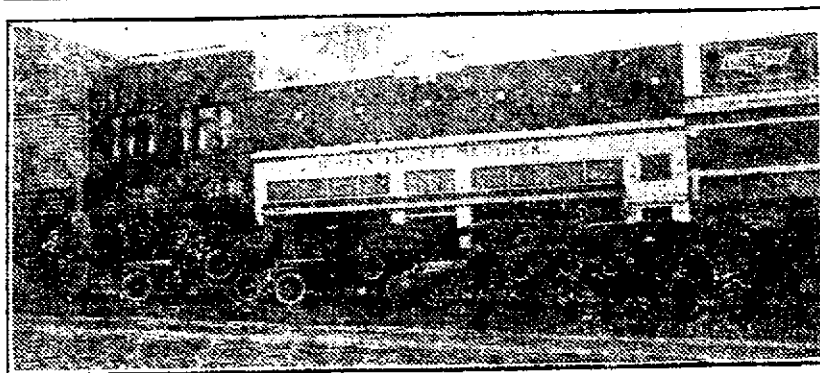

Eight years ago the business had expanded to such proportions that Mr. Hopfensperger decided to make his brother, Edward J. Hopfensperger, a partner and since that time the firm has been known as Hopfensperger Bros. About that time, Mr. Hopfensperger purchased his Super market from John Jarchow and Edward Hopfensperger was made manager.

The present building occupied by the company was erected four years ago and is 45 by 50 feet in size. It is one of the most modern and best equipped buildings of its kind in the state and is provided with a refrigeration system. About this time a wholesale sausage department was added. Three years ago the company purchased the meat market at 210 Main st., Menasha, formerly owned by Tony Otto, and Edward Hopfensperger was placed in charge.

Jan. 21, 1922, the company incorporated, the incorporators being Charles and Edward Hopfensperger, A. J. Krugmeier, John Jarchow and Gustav Krause. The latter two were employees who were taken into the firm, the former as manager of the retail market of Appleton, and the latter as manager of the sausage factory. An addition to the second story, which is to be used exclusively as a sausage factory, is under consideration. The company intends also to take on additional territory.

COLLEGE FRATERNITY MEN JOIN "CLIFF DWELLERS"

New York—College fraternity men are the latest New Yorkers to turn cliff dwellers.

The high price of lodgings, which has driven many families from private houses into apartment houses, has caused members of various fraternity clubs to seek a common roof.

To meet this need the Fraternity club building, a sixteen story structure, is being erected at Madison ave. and Thirty-eighth st.

Members of the various clubs, nearly all of them college graduates, will have their own private club quarters and sets of sleeping rooms, but while

WEST END BOOSTS CHERRY-ST BRIDGE

West Side residents who are working for a Cherry-st bridge declare they do not want the bridge located in their end of the city because of any particular advantage to that section but because they believe the entire city will be better off if the new crossing is further west than Lake st. Any advantage that might accrue to the west side because of the bridge location is of secondary importance, they say.

Owners of residence property on Cherry-st believe the value of their property might be decreased because

HAS WOMAN RIGHT TO TAKE OWN LIFE?

Survivor Of "Suicide Pact" Linger In Jail, Revives Old Question

BY MILTON BRONNER
Special To Post-Crescent

London—Has a woman a right to commit suicide?

Should she be sent to prison for attempting self-destruction?

The law says "No" to the first question and "Yes" to the second. But a score of the most distinguished persons in Great Britain protest the law is wrong.

The controversy, growing spectacular, revolves around Mrs. Maud Hibbert, survivor in a suicide pact with a man. After lying in jail six weeks awaiting trial on a charge of attempting suicide, she was convicted and sentenced to serve nine months in prison at hard labor.

Half of Mrs. Hibbert's sentence has gone by and petitions for clemency have been sent to the home secretary, urging that she was "led away by the man, has already suffered punishment, and that such a punishment is not calculated to increase her respect for life nor act as a deterrent to others."

DRINKWATER'S VIEW

Says John Drinkwater, famous playwright, one of the signers of the petition:

"Before a woman reaches a frame of mind which leads to such an act she must have endured the greatest possible mental agony. To keep her in prison on top of that seems to me both cruel and futile."

Stephen McKenna, novelist, says: "I hold the view that anybody's life is the property of that particular person. If you wish to take your own life you ought to be allowed to do so. Suicide often is hard on one's family, but I don't think any department of the government has the right to keep people alive if they don't want to live."

INTEREST IS WIDESPREAD

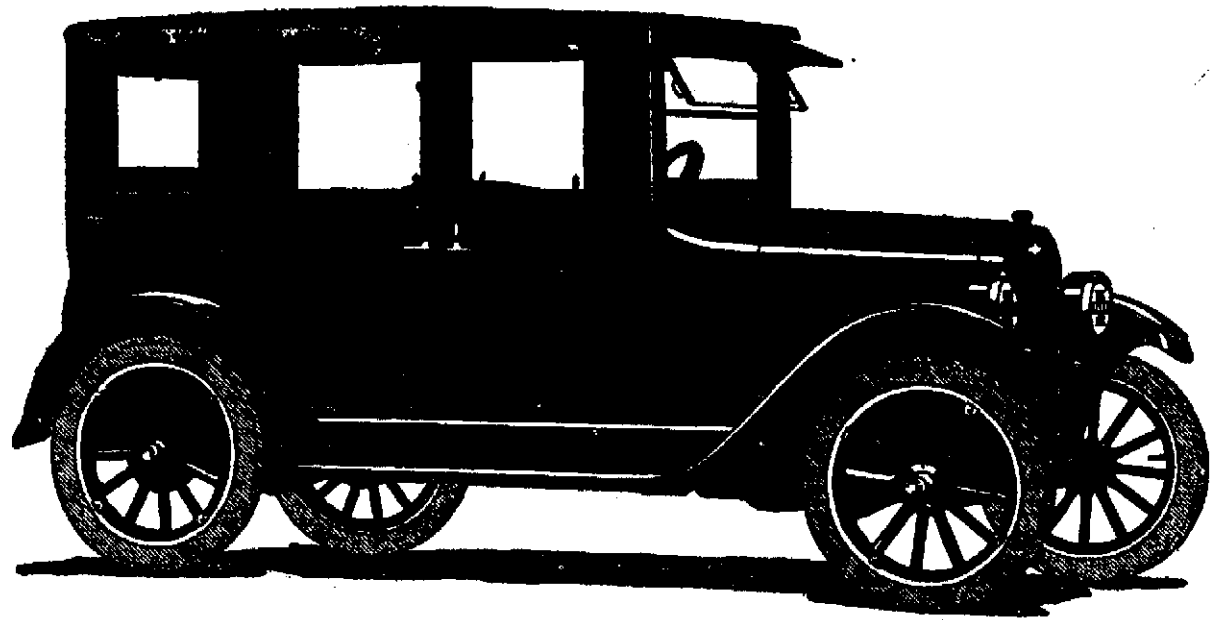

The case is attracting great attention because in some cases under the British law the survivor in a double suicide pact can be indicted for murder as well as for attempting suicide.

Petitioners for clemency for Mrs. Hibbert include Viscountess Rhonda, coal operator and suffragist; May Sinclair, novelist; Mrs. Winttingham, member of Parliament; Miss Clemence Dane, playwright; George Bernard Shaw, John Masefield, G. K. Chesterton, Maurice Hewlett, Arnold Bennett, H. G. Wells, John Galsworthy, E. F. Benson, Sir Henry Newbolt, and Bertrand Russell.

FORMAL OPENING

SATURDAY NOVEMBER 25th

FOR months, yes, for years, we have planned ahead for this moment. And now it is here. We are ready to formally open wide the doors of our spacious new home.

As we look back to the long, slow steps necessary to reach the goal of today, we can't help but think of the many, many friends and customers who have made this move possible.

So we have gladly set aside Saturday, November 25th, to welcome our loyal trade, to renew acquaintance with those who were once-in-a-while visitors, and to invite the public at large to see our new quarters and inspect the remarkable furniture displays we have gathered.

This is Your Personal Invitation to Be Our Guests for This Occasion, So Be Sure to Make Plans to Be Here.

OUR NEW HOME

971-973-975 College Avenue

Will be open for public inspection at 9:00 o'clock on Saturday, November 25th and this is your cordial invitation to be in attendance sometime during the day or evening.

There will be Orchestra Music for the occasion and worth while souvenirs for everyone.

Furniture Will Be Given Away

To properly celebrate this occasion and as an added attraction—we have arranged to give away different pieces of Furniture approximating several hundreds of dollars.

FAIRS DRAW BIG CROWDS

Farmers And Buyers Come To Barter

Monthly Stock Fair Is One Of Oldest Institutions In Appleton

If there are any people in Appleton who have never attended one of the monthly stock fairs on the stock fair grounds at the end of Walnut-st., they have missed one of the most unique sights in Wisconsin. From 400 to more than 1,000 farmers attended these monthly gatherings which are held the last Saturday of every month.

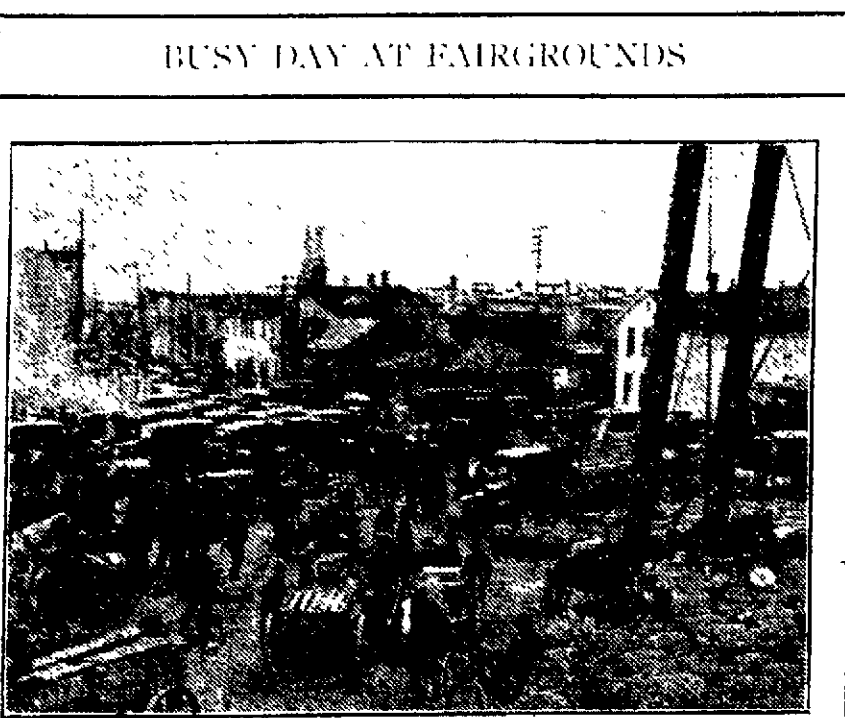

These fairs attract men not only from this immediate vicinity but even from out of the state. Almost every month there are from four to more than a dozen buyers from Marinette, Menasha, northern Michigan points, from Whitewater, Burlington and places in southern Wisconsin, on the grounds. They come to Appleton with from one to four double deck trucks on which they load all the small pigs they can buy. Many times the buyers will station themselves near the entrance to the fair grounds and buy all the pigs they want even before the farmer reaches the grounds.

Pigs are not the only things sold at the monthly fairs. Horses, chickens and cattle change hands in large numbers but pigs are in greatest demand and are offered in largest numbers.

Many farmers come to Appleton prepared to cook a warm meal on the fair grounds and it is not unusual if some enterprising "hot dog" merchant establishes a stand there to cater to the farmers' hunger.

Stock fairs have been an institution in Appleton for nearly half a century. Prior to the city's purchase of the present fair grounds nearly a quarter century ago the market was held in what is now known as Soldier's square. Until very recently that thoroughfare was called Market square because it had been used as a public market for years.

In those ancient days the farmers brought every thing they had to sell to Appleton and usually remained at the market until they had disposed of their loads. It was not unusual to see a half dozen or more loads of hay standing on the street waiting for purchasers. Dozens of farmers would bring loads of wood to the city and it is reported the city residents, when wood was high in price, would refrain from buying until late in the day when the farmers would sell for almost any price so they would not have to return to their homes with their loads unsold.

It also is reported that thrifty Appleton housewives often purchased a week's supply of vegetables and garden produce at these markets. Stock fair day was held once a month but farmers were in town almost every day with loads of produce to sell.

The present stock fair grounds has been greatly enlarged since the city acquired the property. A large area in the ravine has been filled in, barns have been built and there now are many conveniences for the farmers and the buyers.

The picture printed herewith will give an idea of the crowds which attend the monthly stock fairs. The October fair day usually attracts the largest number of farmers and buyers, with November a close second. Attendance usually is much smaller in the winter and in the summer but is good in the spring and fall.

Old timers recall many changes in stock fairs. Now a load of hay at the fair is rather an unusual sight while in the days when Old Dobbin was supreme a large part of the business was in hay and oats which merchants here purchased for their delivery horses.

There are farmers in this vicinity who have been coming to stock fairs for years, scarcely ever missing one of the events. They enjoy the association of other men they meet there and their ability to drive sharp bargains have made the fairs profitable to them.

Soo Line Is Big Asset To West Siders

Merchants and residents of the West End of Appleton are not entirely in accord with the proposal to move the Soo line depot from its present location on West College-ave but they are all heartily in favor of the movement to have the Soo line extend its main line here from Medina. Businessmen who make use of the Soo line's freight depot like the arrangement because of the short hauls that are necessary. The depot is almost at their back door and if it should be moved to Appleton Junction it will take away one of the biggest transportation conveniences in that section of the city.

While the building of the Wisconsin and Northern railroad to Appleton was of great benefit to the city, it was of particular value to the west end because it made that section the gateway to Appleton. Purchase of the road by the Soo line was another factor which has been of considerable benefit to the west side.

It is believed the value of property on West College-ave, west of Story-st., will be enhanced considerably if the tracks are removed. There are many people who do not like the idea of living across the street from a railroad track, even if there are not a large number of trains on it. Another thing is that warehouses and even factories are likely to spring up along the tracks, although the proposed city zoning ordinance will, to a large extent, prevent that.

West end merchants and residents, in common with persons living in other sections of the city, would like nothing better than a union depot, located as centrally as possible, where all the lines would converge. They argue that it would do away with confusion and would make for efficiency in transportation which is their desire.

HER REWARD
"Having extended kindness and charity," she says, "I have received the inevitable and usual results."

Recently she received a bill of $150. "But I have always taken a great deal of pleasure in helping people and I intend to keep on helping them in the hope that some day they will be grateful."

Mrs. Hanton says she has done only one mean thing in all her life. Recently she received a bill of $150 for taxi charges. She paid it.

With 48,000 pennies, sent to the taxi office in a barrel.

HELPED HELPLESS, SUED FOR TROUBLE

New York—Being an angel on earth is a hard, thankless job.

Mrs. R. L. Hanton, Fifth Avenue social leader, who has been playing the part of a Lady Bountiful for many years, says so.

It leads to too many complications. Take the latest.

She is being charged with alienating the affections of a young wife. All because she took her family under her wing, paid its rent and clothed it.

The charge is made by Roger C. Pierotti, fashion designer and artist of 235 Cobb, Conn. It is denied by both his wife and Mrs. Hanton.

They met five years ago in a hospital. Mrs. Pierotti was a nurse; the philanthropist a patient. They became attached to each other.

Mrs. Pierotti told of her marriage. Her husband, she said, was violently jealous of her friends and of books she enjoyed. He would often burn her novels, she said.

This art she sense, she confided to Mrs. Hanton, seemed to demand other clothes for her than those she chose. He would insist upon her wearing garments he picked. He had a daily schedule for her, as he didn't like to have her go out.

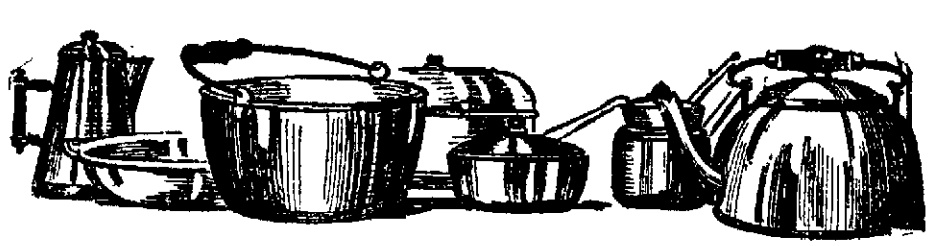

It was too much, the young wife continued, so the couple decided to separate temporarily and Mrs. Pierotti went into nursing.

Mrs. Hanton became interested. She helped Mrs. Pierotti. She rented

New Garage To Be Open On Friday

St. John Motor Car Company's
New Structure Costs
About $20,000

One of the new buildings in the west side of Appleton and one of the largest is the garage which is being built for the St. John Motor Car Co. The building is about complete and it is planned to open it to the public on Friday Nov. 24.

Clarence St. John, formerly of Green Bay, is manager of the local garage. He has moved to Appleton and is living at 585 Outagamie-st. He was connected with the automobile business in Green Bay several years before coming to Appleton.

The new building is of brick and tile construction, fireproof throughout. It is 102 feet long with a 48 foot frontage on College-ave. The display room for automobiles, which also will include an office, will be 48 feet long by 30 feet wide. The remainder of the structure will be used for a repair shop and for storage. Maxwell, Chalmers and Gray pleasure cars and Maxwell trucks will be sold.

Mr. St. John said his company will provide a first class auto repair shop under the direction of an auto mechanic with years of experience.

The new building was started about Sept. 1. When completed it will represent an expenditure of about $20,000.

CHARGE WOMAN IS RESPONSIBLE FOR KEMAL'S SUCCESS

Legend Surrounds Astounding
Career Of Turkish
Woman

Special To Post-Crescent
BY MILTON BRUNNER
London—The woman behind Kemal, that's what they call Halide Edib Hanoum, one of the first Turkish women of all time to make her mark in history.

She is said to be the person who has inspired Kemal Mustapha with his grandiose dreams of a revived Turkey astraddle of the straits of Bosphorus, with one foot in Europe and the other in Asia. It is she who is supposed to be constantly whispering in his ears the battle cry—"Turkey—all Turkey—for the Turk!" Romantic legend is already busy with her story and it is already hard to sift fact from fiction. It is known that she is the daughter of a Turk who was an official at the Yildiz Kiosk, the home of the sultans at Constantinople. It is known that she was one of the first real Turkish women to be graduated from the American College at Constantinople. She has absorbed both Turkish and European cultures.

HIGHLY CULTURED
She is quoted as saying: "In the most approved Turkish housewife fashion, I can go to a market and pick out a female slave for the household and know the exact price to pay for her. And I can go to a European butcher shop like any European woman and select the proper joint of beef or mutton. "As a Turk I can select a dancing girl and know what her services are worth. As a European, I can assume European dress, play tennis, dance in the Western fashion, play the piano, sing the latest London and Paris successes and hold fluent conversations in French, Italian and English."

When very young she is only 32 now—she married a Turkish journalist and they have several children. During the war she was a friend and confidant of the all-powerful Turkish triumvirate—Enver, Talaat and Djemal. And it is at this point that romantic legend steps in. There are three separate yarns about how she happened to join the Angora forces:

Legend No. One—For her connection with the anti-Armenian activities of Djemal Pasha, she was exiled by the allies to the Isle of Malta whence she escaped to Angora.

Legend No. Two—The Turkish government at Constantinople, suspecting her sympathy with the Nationalists under Kemal, was preparing to arrest her for treason. But she struck up an acquaintance with a movie operator, who was also an aeronaut and one fine morning she sailed away above the white shining minarets of the Turkish capital and landed safely in Asia Minor.

Legend No. Three—The allies wanted to keep her in Constantinople, but on moonlight night she was ferried across the Bosphorus to the Asiatic shore, where she was met by Nationalists who piloted her past the English lines and to safety.

IN KEMAL'S CABINET
She soon played a leading role at Kemal's capital. As a Turkish woman who had discarded the Turkish veil and urged other Turkish women to do so, as the author of a novel which attacked many of the evils of the harem system, as one who nursed wounded Turks in spite of Mohammedan teachings, she captured the fancy of the women and taught them to read and write. She became the champion of the new woman movement in Islam, saying—"Without emancipated women, Turkey will never become reunited."

Recognizing her powers, Kemal broke all records by making her minister of education in his first cabinet. As a cabinet minister she has gone far beyond supervising education. She has been the most trusted of Kemal's advisers.

West End Is Mecca For New Garages

Two Out Of Every Three Enterprises Have To Do With Automobiles

One of the most interesting phases of development of the so-called "west end" of Appleton is the large number of garages which have been established in the last few years. Two out of every three new enterprises west of Superior st have to do with automobiles. Some of the most pretentious buildings in that section of the city are used by automobile concerns. Three new garages now are under construction on West College ave. They are for St. John Motor Co., Appleton Auto Laundry and William Manthey. They will represent an expenditure of well over $100,000 when completed, it is said.

Other garage firms in the west end are the Fox River Motor Co., Appleton Motor Co., Wolf garage, Appleton Engine Works and Exide Battery station. In addition to these there are several machine shops which make a specialty of repairing automobile parts although most of them do not do auto repair work of a general nature. There are a number of automobile salesrooms in the west end which do not have repair shops in connection.

It is said that every one of the companies now in operation have about all the work they can take care of. Sales of automobiles in Appleton have been prodigious and there is plenty of work for all the shops.

CHINA REPORTS IMPORTS OF RICE

Purchase Of $13,000,000 Worth Is Largest In History

Shanghai—More than 3,600,000 bags of rice, valued at $13,000,000 in American money, have been imported in to China from Rangoon during the current year, according to statistics recently compiled here. This is the largest quantity of foreign rice ever imported by China. Seventy per cent of this total was unloaded at Hongkong and Amoy, where it was transported into the interior. The remainder came to Shanghai for distribution into North China. Chinese merchants have ordered several additional lots of rice from Burma and India, which will be sent as soon as arrangements for its transportation have been completed.

FAST GROWING BANK

Few institutions on West College ave. are growing more rapidly than the Outagamie County State bank pictured above. This institution was started in 1914 by a group of west end business men and it has grown steadily and rapidly. Its resources in 1914 were only $57,000 while today they are $450,000.

Much of the growth of the institution is due to the cashier, Frank Groh, who came here only a few years ago. Fred Stoffel is president of the bank.

THIEVES RAID HEART OF SCOTLAND YARD

London—Scotland Yard, the world's most famous sleuth center, has been the victim of burglars. The thieves entered the lost property office of the bureau one night recently and stole a number of unclaimed umbrellas and overcoats.

Entry to the offices, which is on the top floor of the low building was made through the skylight and the thieves escaped by jumping through a window on to the roof of an adjoining building.

HERE IS A WOMAN WHO KNOWS HOW TO KEEP HER SECRETS

London Girl Has Made More Than Good As Lloyd George's Secretary

BY MILTON BRONNER
Special to Post-Crescent

London—The keeper of more secrets than anyone in the British Empire is a young and pretty and fair-haired and charming woman.

She is Miss Frances Louise Stevenson, for nine years—the most crucial nine years in Britain's history—confidential private secretary of Lloyd George, and the first woman in the world to be a secretary to a premier.

Compared to her the oyster is garrulous and the clam a chatter-box. She won't even be interviewed about herself. She is the greatest proof in the world that women can and do keep secrets.

Miss Stevenson was graduated from Clapham High School and Royal Holloway College and got her Bachelor of Arts degree from London University.

Then she entered civil service. She became a clerk in a government department. That usually means burial for good and all.

GEORGE NOTICES HER
But, somehow, by her skill, efficiency, attention to details, Miss Stevenson was brought to the notice of Lloyd George. And in 1913, when that statesman became chancellor of the exchequer, she became his secretary.

Then came the war. There was a shortage of high explosive shells and the crying need was to get some man to fill the post of minister of munitions.

Giving up his treasury job, Lloyd George in 1915 became minister of munitions. The job cut lines in his face and put white in his hair.

HIS TIME OF STRESS
Miss Stevenson is authority for the statement that this period was the greatest time of test and trial in the life of her great chief. In July, 1916, Miss Stevenson followed him to the war office and in December of the same year she again followed him, this time to 10 Downing street, the official home of the prime minister. And now that Lloyd George is no longer premier, she is over at 18 Abingdon street, his new headquarters.

During all this long service confidential papers, letters and cables by hundreds have passed through Miss Stevenson's hands.

She is a strong advocate of women in government service. She makes the assertion that in all her experience she has never known of a secret which leaked out because a woman babbled.

West Side Is Urging Purchase Of Land For Park In Fifth Ward

Piercee Park Has Resulted
In Big Increase In Property
Values—Fifth Ward In Need of Playground and Park.

People who live in the West end of Appleton, and especially in the Third ward, have a right to congratulate themselves and the city on the purchase of Piercee park. The thousands of persons who have made use of the new playground declare that the city has never taken a wiser step in its history.

Those who argued that Piercee park was only an additional expense to the city and would take several thousand dollars out of the tax roll have been confounded. Instead of taking thousands of dollars from the tax rolls, it has added thousands. No sooner had the city purchased the park than the property in its vicinity almost doubled in value. Three or four years ago splendid lots on Second street could be purchased for as little as $100 and now those that are available cannot be touched for less than $1,500 and some are bid as high as $2,500. Paying the street of course added something to their value but not nearly as much as the purchase of the park did.

Second street property was not alone in its sharp increase in value. The proximity of the park has made the entire section desirable for residences and as a result there has been a heavy demand for lots in that territory with the result that prices have gone sky-rocketing. It would not be overestimating it to say that the purchase of Piercee park has added several hundred thousand dollars to the value of the property within a few blocks of the playground.

Piercee park takes care of the park need of the Third ward, but the Fifth ward is sadly neglected in this respect. Prof. Leonard S. Smith, city planner, time and again has pointed out the necessity of securing a park in the Fifth ward before the property becomes so valuable that the cost will be prohibitive. The city has acquired a splendid park in the Sixth ward and now Fifth ward people are working for a playground.

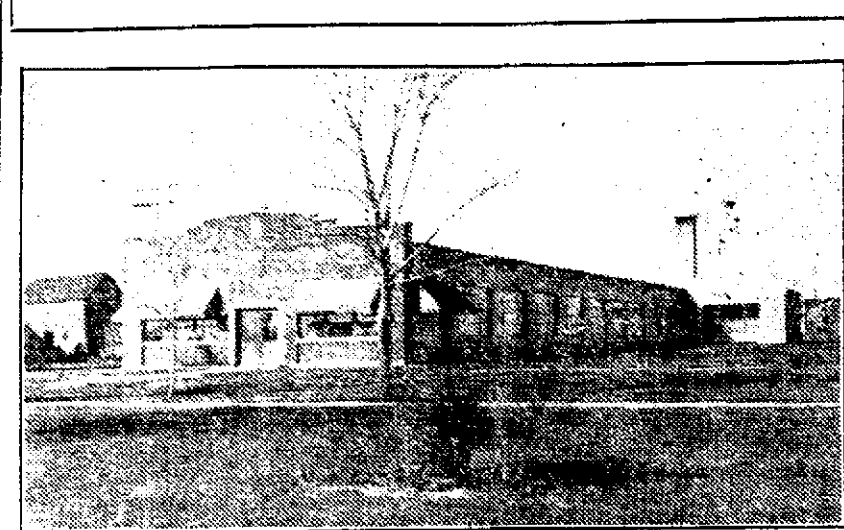

It is said a splendid park could be made out of the property in the triangle where Eastern interests with Second street. There are a few small houses on the land but they could be purchased at reasonable prices and the plot planted with trees and equipped with playground apparatus. This property is favorably situated for a large number of people and no doubt would result in quick growth of that section of the city which now is largely barren.

The Junior high school in the old carnival grounds will provide a playground and athletic field for young people in that particular section. The plot is large enough to lay out a large athletic field and then leave room for planting trees and making a small park.

It would not be surprising that the

CITY'S NEWEST FACTORY

One of the city's newest factories is the Scolding Locks. Hattin Co. located on Rogers ave. This plant was completed only a few weeks ago. It is said to be large enough to take care of the company's growth unless it exceeds all expectations, for several years. The building is well designed for the purpose for which it is used. Especial attention was paid to the details of lighting and arrangement so that it is one of the model factories in the Fox river valley.

BRITISH POSTAL BUSINESS SHOWS SUBSTANTIAL BOOST

By Associated Press
London — The gross revenue collected in postage on correspondence and parcels by the British post office for the fiscal year will be 40,000,000 pounds according to estimates of the department. This is a substantial increase over the previous year, and a slight increase over the year preceding the war.

Estimates for 1921-1922, based on figures of last October, show that the department will handle 3,400,000,000 letters; 500,000,000 postcards; 1,150,000,000 printed paper and 120,000,000 newspapers.

FUEL EXECUTIVE HAS REAL NERVE

Confiscates Coal Hoarded By Wealthy Residents Of
New York

BY EDWARD THURRY
Special to Post-Crescent

Highland Falls, N. Y.—I came to a look at the man who had the nerve to back a wagon up against Mrs. J. P. Morgan's coal pile and cut away enough coal to keep the home fires going for fuelless townspeople.

The man is William L. Perkins, fuel administrator of Orange county. He is stout, elderly, wears glasses, and is a retired grain and feed dealer.

"Why, there wasn't five tons of coal in all Highland Falls until we got busy," said Mr. Perkins. "What do you suppose they appointed me fuel administrator for? So's everybody would have coal wasn't it? Not just the rich—but the poor, too."

"Well, I found there was a great stack of coal at the country place of Mrs. J. P. Morgan, Sr., and a lot more at Robert Goetz's place. And only five tons in Highland Falls, a sizable place, you know."

SEIZES 20 TONS

"I've just had 20 tons taken away from Mrs. Morgan's place and distributed to families in the village, a ton to a family. I'll take more from her before I'm through. Now we're parceling out some of the Goetz's extra coal. I don't know how much they have except that they've got too much according to the way I read the law."

"I know of 50 tons in one pile in the Goetz back-yard. The law says you can't hold more than one month's supply."

Percy Wilkinson, superintendent of the 1600-acre Morgan estate, says the Morgans burn five tons a week. And according to reports, there are 350 tons stored on the place.

"Understand, the Morgans and Goetz aren't offering any resistance to our seizing the coal. I guess they know the law all right."

"What's this about their offering voluntarily to divide their coal with the villagers?" Perkins was asked.

"That's just a yarn. They didn't offer anybody as much as a lump of coal. So we took it."

"You can see how this works against the poor family or the one of moderate means. It isn't right for somebody with money to grab off all the coal just because they have the money and get their orders in early."

"Am I popular? Hanged if I know, or care. I'm just doing my duty. I don't get any pay for this job, but it isn't a question of money."

"All I'm interested in is seeing that all the families in Highland Falls get the coal they need. The coal dealers are doing the delivering, and all they get is a normal profit."

The West Side Has A Future

Stop just one minute and think what has happened on the West Side in one year. Several of the finest business blocks in Appleton have been erected there in just a few months. There must be a reason for this. This is a reason — Appleton is growing and it is following the line of least resistance. It is branching to the West. New manufacturing plants have sprung up. Not big yet, but growing fast.

Real Estate values on the West Side are rapidly increasing. Many men are investing in West Side Real Estate—they can see great possibilities there. Everything now points to a probable 100% increase in the next seven or eight years. The person who has money to invest cannot do better than to investigate this fast growing part of the city.

OUR LIST OF WEST SIDE PROPERTY IS LARGE

This list includes many wonderful homes and home sites. These in locations that are desirable. Some very close to the car line which makes it convenient no matter what part of the city you work in. Also we have a number of West Side businesses for the owners having perfectly logical reasons for selling. There are still a few factory sites left. We have the most desirable ones on our list.

If you are interested in the West Side drop in at our office and talk it over. We will have something you will want to know about before you buy.

WICHMANN STORE ONE OF FINEST IN CITY

Structure Is Called Pride Of West Side

Splendid New Building Will Be Formally Opened On Saturday, Nov. 25

EVERYTHING IS MODERN

Furniture Is Displayed To Make Shopping Easy For Customers

If you never go any further west on College ave than Superior st you have missed one of the most pretentious and well equipped furniture stores in this part of the state. It is the new building of the Wichmann Furniture Co. which has just been completed and which will be opened formally on Saturday Nov. 25. The building has been constructed with every modern convenience combined with attractive display space and small rooms where furniture may be placed to show its effect in a home.

The store is planned along the newest development in furniture store architecture, with a balcony around the main floor. This gives four floors of display space besides the basement storage space and receiving room. The size of the building is a trifle over 55 feet in width and 110 feet in depth.

FILLED WITH FURNITURE

When you attend the opening of the store you will find that the large basement is filled with furniture which has just come in and is not quite ready to be placed in stock. All furniture has to be inspected, dusted and shined up a bit before it is placed in the show rooms. On one side of the stair way is the heating plant and at the rear is the electric elevator which runs from basement to the roof. The morgue which is part of the undertaking equipment is situated at the side of the elevator in the basement.

On the first floor, besides the display space, there is a work shop on the west side of the receiving room and a private office on the east side. Above these rooms on the balcony are two rooms which will be furnished as rooms for special display purposes. The furniture in these will be changed from time to time.

BUY ON ONE FLOOR

It is the theory of Louis Wichmann, president of the company that when people want to furnish a home they should be able to purchase all their furniture on one floor of a store without having to go from one dis-

WEST SIDE'S NEWEST STORE

ply room to another. For this reason, you will find bedroom suites, living room furniture and dining room furniture on the main floor, the building above it and on the second floor. There is some graduation according to price, but this idea is not carried out strictly. The third floor is used for rugs, more bedroom furniture, kitchen furniture and other furnishings. There is no drapery department in the store at the present time, although Mr. Wichmann said that it is likely that it will be added later. The fourth floor was planned as storage space for surplus stock, although it is used for some displays. At the rear of this floor is the undertaking department where caskets are displayed.

BEAUTIFUL FINISH

The wood work in the entire building is finished in light golden oak while the walls are furnished in ivory with white ceilings. Large plate glass windows are used at the front of the building on the first floor and balconies. The beams have been covered with golden oak finish to add to the decoration. The entire building is made semi fireproof but there is an outside stairway which is made fireproof and carefully separated from the rest of the building for the fire escape.

You will be impressed with the enormous stock of furniture in the building but Mr. Wichmann said that the present stock is not much larger than that which they carried in the former location. The only difference in the size of the stock is the ease with which it can be displayed in the new building as compared with the cramped conditions in the smaller quarters.

The Fraser Lumber and Manufacturing Co. and Cronke Brothers had the contract for building the store plans for which were prepared by E. Ward Wettengel. The Appleton Electric Co. did the wiring, the W. S. Patterson Co. installed the heating and the plumbing contract was awarded to Oscar Giesinger.

IN BUSINESS 21 YEARS

Mr. Wichmann is completing his twenty first year in the furniture business in Appleton. For the past eight years he has been in business alone without a partner. For eight years before he established a partnership business, he was employed by the Bretschneider Furniture Co. Although his former store seemed small because the building was small, Mr. Wichmann has done a large volume of furniture and undertaking business in Appleton. Even though the new building is much larger than the former quarters, the company has found already that it will be able to use all the space in the building.

PANAMA, NEW AQUATIC CENTER, BUILDING ARENA

By Associated Press. Cristobal, Canal Zone.—The warm waters of the lagoon at Gatun locks the interest in swimming as a sport and healthful exercise among the Americans living in the Canal Zone and the energy of Homer Piker, physical director of the Zone, are promising to make Panama in spite of its distance from the United States, a well known center in aquatic diversions. The water in the lagoon is pure combination of fresh and salt and constitutes another attraction. Mr. Piker has plans under way to construct the finest swimming arena in Central America. There will be a long straightaway course for racing with room for 100 contestants to start abreast. Two fine steel diving towers, traveling rings and aerial glider and two water polo arenas also will be built and it is hoped to bring down some well known American swimmers during the coming winter.

Junior High School Will Be Boost To "West Side"

Decision To Locate School On Carnival Grounds Is Welcomed

An improvement which hundreds of residents of the west side of Appleton are looking forward to is the location of a junior high school near to their homes. The decision of the board of education to erect the school on the old carnival grounds, bounded by College ave., Mason st. and State rd. is sure to boom the value of west end property.

Every survey of the city indicated that a school should be built in the western part of the city because of its large juvenile population and because the growth of the city is toward the west. Even the youngest of Appleton people can remember when the territory west of the proposed location of the school was nothing more than a swamp while today it is dotted with splendid homes and a little further west is an extensive factory section.

The junior school, no doubt will be equipped with the latest educational facilities. It is the intention of the board of education to erect school plants which will be second to none in the country when it comes to efficiency.

This new school will materially relieve the Third ward and Washington schools of their congestion problem. The Washington school, erected only a few years ago, is far too small to accommodate the increasing enrollment. A junior school will take the seventh and eighth grades from these schools.

This will make it possible to provide better service in the present ward schools and given a wider range of subjects for the seventh and eighth grade students. Property value will be increased because of the better school facilities that will be afforded.

ASSERTS HE KNOWS VIOLIN SECRET OF STRADIVARIUS

New York Violinists Making Instruments Equal To Old Master, Is Claim

New York—Has the lost secret of Antonius Stradivarius, master violin maker, been rediscovered? Julius Horvath, after 35 years' work, asserts he has perfected a fiddle which again will give the world violins as only Stradivarius could make.

"When Stradivarius died in 1737," Horvath says, "his secret died with him. When I die, my secret shall be left to the whole world to use."

"I am too old to want much money. My quest for the lost secret of Stradivarius has been a hobby with me for many, many years."

"Now that I believe I have found it, I shall place my formula at the disposal of manufacturers who share with me the desire to create a typical American violin to supply a fine toned instrument in the face of the decreasing number of rare old violins."

Michael Banner, New York violinist, is one of many who vouch for Horvath's claims.

Recently Banner gave a private recital in which he used two different instruments, one his own Stradivarius worth thousands of dollars and the other a $1.75 fiddle subjected to the Horvath process.

Better Transportation Facilities Is Called West Side's Big Need

West Side Resident Suggests Traction Company Run Automobile Bus Line

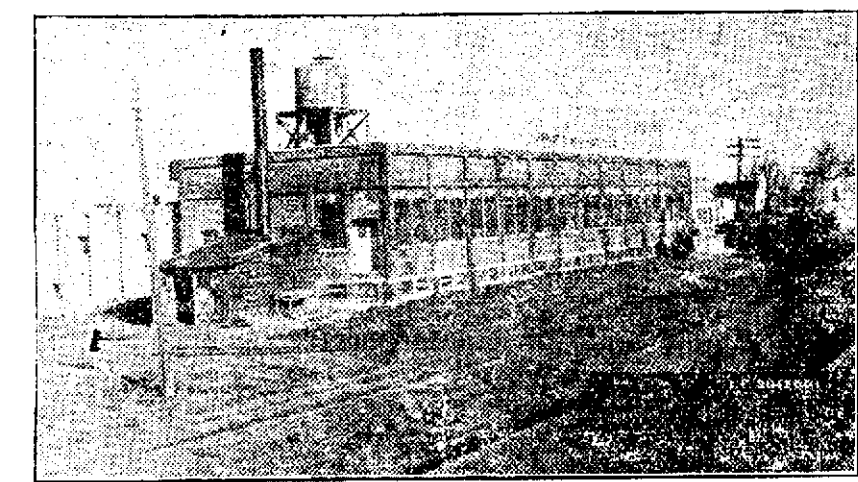

"If there is one thing we need more than anything else in this section of Appleton it is an adequate passenger transportation service," a prominent resident of Appleton's west side declared a day or two ago. "As you say, the West End is almost a city in itself, with stores, factories, garages, bakeries and almost everything else that a city has and enjoys except transportation service. We people would not appreciate anything more than a means of getting us to means can be found to provide that service.

Few west end residents are in sympathy with "jitneys." They believe the traction company should have the first opportunity of providing the service, inasmuch as the traction company is a heavy taxpayer and is a vital necessity to the growth of Appleton.

One man who has often discussed this matter and who has given considerable thought to it believes the traction company would be doing a good stroke of business if it established an automobile bus line to work in conjunction with its present street car lines. He believes that it would be a paying proposition to run buses

GROWING FAST

THE Appleton Wood Products Co. plant at Appleton Junction is ranked among the foremost industries of Appleton. Established only six or seven years ago it has enjoyed a remarkable growth and now its products are known all over the country. The original building soon was too small for the business and two additions were built. The most recent was completed only a few weeks ago.

the business section without using our cars or without 'hoofing it'."

That seemed to be the universal complaint of west end people who talked about this subject. They declared they have been waiting for years for an extension of street car lines which would make it easier for persons living in the northwestern section of Appleton to get to the business section.

What the west end needs and wants is a 15-minute transportation service which will reach into every section of the city. They believe that some through the populous sections to connect with the electric lines.

In that way service could be given the Fifth and Sixth wards and those sections of the Third ward which are not served, he said. It also would give more frequent service thereby making it much more valuable.

Agitation for better service has been going on for some time but it has not yet reached very noticeable proportions. It would not be surprising, however, if a real demand is made in the near future.

ARE YOU AMONG THESE?

To three thousand families in Appleton and surrounding towns who are already our customers this announcement is unnecessary, and it is to those who do not know us that we wish to speak.

You will agree that there must be genuine merit in the product, the method of doing business and in the firm itself, that, in nineteen years, becomes the largest retailer of Coffees and Teas in Central Wisconsin. This is the record of the Appleton Tea & Coffee Co., and we believe it is only fair to the public and ourselves to acquaint those who are not among our customers with our methods.

A firm that specializes in Coffees and Teas can and must, in order to justify itself, sell better merchandise. The place we occupy as specialists in Coffees and Teas eloquently testifies to the quality of our goods.

We have our Coffees Roasted Weekly — one week's supply at a time and deliver them direct to the homes of our customers fresh and wholesome with all their original goodness and rich aroma.

These are only some of the reasons that are of sufficient importance to you to justify a serious and favorable consideration when our representative calls upon you.

No pilot-lights, automatics or steam valves—powerful, economical, noiseless, smooth and efficient.

MISS BARTOSCH DRIVING THE COATS STEAMER IN JUNEAU PARK, MILWAUKEE

To start the day with a cold boiler, you turn on the ignition. The electric motor with its blower will raise enough steam that by the time you are ready to use the car, the auxiliary steam motor is running. This motor takes its steam from the boiler and operates constantly throughout the day, keeping your steam pressure at the desired amount. It has only taken a few minutes to have gotten under way, from once you entered the garage, and any time you care to make use of your car during the day, get in behind the wheel, open your throttle and you are away "always in high." Mud, sand, snow or steep hills are made pavements as you go along. You have an abundance of power at your finger tips regardless of the rate of travel, one-half to sixty miles per hour.

Cold, damp, or disagreeable weather has absolutely no effect upon the water or any parts of the car. You may leave the car standing at ten or thirty below zero without fear of anything freezing. Alcohol may also be used. The auxiliary motor relieves the driver of all the worries connected with the car of today.

There are no gears to shift, no valves to grind, no carbon to remove and it is impossible to kill the engine. There is no time lost in getting away in traffic by changing gears, nor is there any clutch or speed pedal to slip or operate. The engine operates quietly without jumps or jerks and has a positive force.

Kerosene is burnt for fuel and not exploded. Cylinder oil required is not worth mentioning. Five extra gallons of water will cover at least two hundred and fifty miles of travel.

The Coats Steamer will have a large dealer organization with one or two service stations to each county. Wisconsin purchasers will find numerous "Coats Authorized Dealer" signs. A large number of orders are already on file and those desiring early delivery should order early.

Our bodies are roomy, beautiful, with deep restful upholstery—the latest in open and closed types.

WE APPRECIATE YOUR TRADE!

Fifteen Years Of Progress

WHEN WE STARTED

The first Hopfensperger market was opened in 1907 at 1016 College Avenue. The shop was a small one, employing one man and one boy. This market was primarily a "neighborhood butcher shop" with little delivering. As the West Side continued to grow, so did the business of this market and it became necessary after a few years, to enlarge the refrigerator room. The enlarged refrigerator space however, was soon outgrown and we had to seek other and larger quarters to properly take care of the steadily growing trade.

WHAT WE ARE TODAY

At the beginning of our seventh year we opened another market at the corner of Second Avenue & Superior St. when Edward Hopfensperger entered the business as a partner and the two markets became known as the Hopfensperger Brothers Markets. In 1918 this concern built the present day market at 940-942 College Ave. adding a modern sausage factory and entering the wholesaling of sausages. At this time the original market was discontinued. Three years ago the Hopfensperger Brothers opened a third market at 210 Main St. in Menasha.

New Postal Station Gives Good Service

West Side Residents Take Pride in Substations Recently Opened

The West End postoffice has become a little center of business in the short time that it has been established. It is not really a postoffice in the true sense of the word, but as a substation it is already beginning to relieve the central postoffice of a considerable burden of work.

This station was established by Postmaster William H. Zuehlke a few weeks ago after permission was granted by the department during his visit in Washington. It is located in Downers West End pharmacy, with John Lette in charge.

While no delivery is made at or from this station all the general work, such as receiving of letters and parcels, sale of postage stamps, registry of mails, issuing and cashing of money orders, etc., is done here.

The station proved to be popular from the start. Persons considered it a convenience to transact their postal business here. The sale of stamps, issue of money orders and other business is constantly increasing. West end merchants seem to take a pride in the substation and endeavor to give their business, although the station was established merely to relieve the main postoffice of the volume of work.

FEMINE ATHLETES OF FRANCE SIGN PEACE PACT

Paris—Peace has been officially signed between the two warring feminine federations of athletic women of France. A temporary truce was declared last July in order to hold at Pershing Stadium the first feminine Olympic Games on record in which the United States team carried off second honors.

Gaston Vidal, under secretary of state for physical culture and sports, acted as peace-maker. Both federations elected officers to represent them in the Union of French Sports and Athletic Federations and henceforth they will be known as the Feminine Federation of France.

The new Federation comprises 144 feminine clubs and athletic organizations throughout France with a membership of nearly fifteen thousand girls.

UNCLE SAM IS PROBING TEXAS OIL PROMOTERS

Charge Mails Are Used For Fraudulent Purposes By Schemers

Fort Worth, Tex.—Threefold investigation of the flooding of many states with worthless oil stocks is under way in Texas.

Criminal prosecution of many oil promoters for fraudulent use of the mails, barring of their present business methods by the Federal Trade Commission and exposure of these methods by the national vigilance committees of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America are among the results expected.

The investigations in Texas center in Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston. Similar inquiries are under way or have been completed in Arkansas, another hot bed of bogus stock selling and in Kansas City.

Evidence already has been uncovered showing the swindling of thousands of persons throughout the United States. Heavier even than at the time oil "wildcatting" was in its flower in Texas is the harvest of illicit gain which the promoters have reaped.

MAKE BIG CLEANUP

Publicity either in newspapers specializing in oil promotion or in direct by mail canvassing of "sucker lists" has enabled the stock selling promoters to make amazing "clean ups" at the expense of the credulous.

Declarations of trust which the promoters hold are legal under the common law are used by the oil men to enable them to evade prosecution in the state courts or suits in the civil.

Claiming the right under these declarations to exclusive and complete control of the affairs of the syndicates they organize, the promoters often pocket 50 per cent or more of the proceeds from their stock selling campaigns as "organization fees," pay themselves handsome salaries and meet big expense accounts from the remainder and spend little or nothing in actual oil operations.

"MERGERS" QUESTIONED

From syndicates which have been milked dry by the original promoters numerous oil mergers now flourish ing in Fort Worth and elsewhere buy lists of stockholders and canvass these for more profits. The "mergers" write alluring letters offering to exchange their own stock for the stock of the defunct companies provided the holders buy 25 per cent additional "merger" stock—for cash. Legitimacy of the "merger" propositions is being especially inquired into by the Federal Trade Commission.

Manufacturers Find Many Advantages Near Railroad Terminals

Development of Appleton Junction as a manufacturing center was of slow growth until the last decade during which several new industries have located in that part of the city. Its chief attraction in an industrial way is the excellent shipping facilities it offers particularly since the completion of the Wisconsin & Northern-rd recently acquired by the Soo line.

Officers of Appleton Chair Co. realized the importance of its location more than 12 years ago and when their plant near Riverside pulpmill was destroyed by fire they abandoned their former site for their present one. It was not the first industry, however, to locate in that part of the city, that credit going to Appleton Preserving & Pickling Co. which has been out of business more than 30 years.

Appleton Junction has always been considered one of the most important transfer points in Wisconsin because of the wide divergence of the northern terminals of the Ashland and Northern Wisconsin divisions of the Northwestern Railway Co. The Soo Line and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul-rd give it additional prestige. The Northwestern Railway Co. has particularly good yard and track facilities and is not handicapped for room for future growth. The officers of the Wisconsin & Northern-rd also took precaution in this direction when it constructed its tracks.

The Appleton Chair Co. greatly increased its capacity at the time it built its new plant and being previously cramped for yard room took precaution to see that its future needs would be supplied. Its log and lumber piles cover several acres and its side tracks connect with the main line of the Northern Wisconsin division within a few hundred feet of where the Ashland division track intersects.

Another pioneer industrial plant of that part of the city is that of Campbell & Guenther, formerly Campbell & Morgan, manufacturers of cement blocks, "roofs," benches, vaults and other specialties. Their plant is located at the corner of Melvin and Outagamie-sts and during the years of its existence it has increased its capacity from time to time to keep pace with the call for its products. Its blocks are in demand not only in Appleton, but many are shipped to neighboring cities.

When looking about for a site in 1917 the Appleton Woods Product Co. selected one within a stone's throw of Appleton Junction station. One lot facing on Second-st six facing on Douglas-st, and ten facing on Melvin-st were purchased. The site was selected with a view of securing the best shipping facilities for its products. Three additions have been built since the completion of its main building five years ago, the last addition, a combined office and storage building, having been finished only a month ago. The company specializes in meat blocks, cutting blocks, tile tables and dye blocks which it ships all over the United States and to foreign countries.

The Scolding Locks Hairpin Co. which has outgrown its former quarters on College-ave, has just moved into a handsome new factory immediately south of Appleton Junction. The structure is 48 by 200 feet in size, well lighted and fireproof, and will answer all requirements of this new and growing industry for years to come. All the latest machinery to facilitate turning out its product has been installed.

The completion of the Wisconsin & Northern-rd from Appleton to Cranston which penetrates a virgin tract of timber, was instrumental in opening up a new industry, lumbering. Until a few years ago Appleton had no saw mills that make a business of manufacturing lumber and now it has three, all located near Appleton Junction.

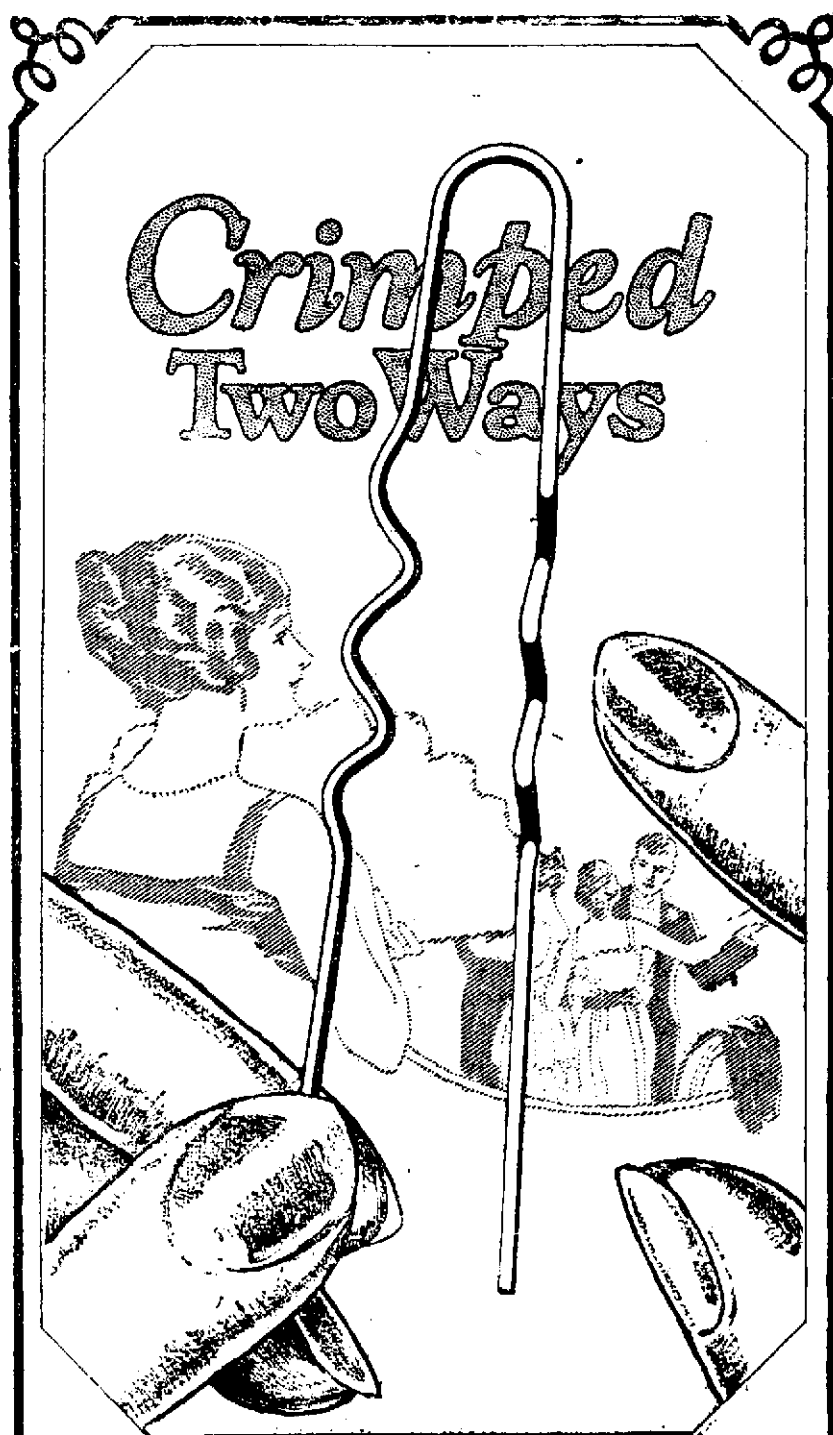

With the new railway running through the center, the old fair grounds owned by the city, which were originally part of the poor farm, offered an excellent location for wood working plants and saw mills and the first to take advantage of it was S. A. Konz of the Konz Box and Lumber Co., which operated a plant at Seymour, and which makes a specialty of manufacturing cheese boxes.

Mr. Konz purchased several acres and erected a new factory building and had not been operating long before he added a saw mill and enlarged his main building. Later he built a new office building, lumber shed and several residences for his workmen and is already crowded for yard room.

The H. J. Thoreson Lumber Co. was the second industry to locate at the extreme west end of College-ave. The site which Mr. Thoreson selected was a timbered tract of several acres which joined the fair grounds on the east and belonged to Herman Erb. A modern saw mill was erected in the center of the tract and some of the first lumber turned out was manufactured from the timber that surrounded it. The company expanded as its business increased and among the new buildings recently erected is a planing mill, lumber shed and office building.

Knoke Lumber Co. was the second manufacturing plant to locate on the fair grounds and its saw mill and lumber yards occupy the north end. O. E. Knoke, owner, came here from Hatley, where he still operates a sawmill and retail yard. Within a few months after acquiring the site, Mr. Knoke began the erection of one of the most modern sawmills in the state which has a 10-hour daily capacity from 30,000 to 40,000 feet of lumber.

GOOD SHOTS MUST LEARN HOW TO WINK

Port Au Prince—In preparation for the first national rifle match to be held in Haiti, the American officers of the Haitian gendarmerie are engaged in teaching their native rifle men how to wink. When rifle practice was taken up in earnest for the first time this year among the native troops, their instructors immediately were confronted with the practically universal failure of the gendarmes to close their left eye when sighting along the Springfield barrels. Experiments showed that they were unable to close one eye without closing the other, or to open one eye without opening the other. At first the expedient of putting a patch over the left eye, or tying a handkerchief across it, had to be resorted to. As this did not prove satisfactory General Douglas C. MacDougal, chief of the Gendarmerie and a shot of national reputation in the United States, instructed his officers to teach the gendarmes the principles of winking. At the recent departmental shoots, held to select eight man teams for the national match, the scores made by the leading gendarmes would have compared creditably with that of the more experienced marksmen. The gendarmes are absorbed in their newly found skill, and the spirit of rivalry is so keen that President Borno has offered to the best individual shot a gold watch and an autographed letter
